

News Clips

compiled by Hafidha Acuay

The Homosexual Support Group meets every Friday at noon in CC-152. All gays, lesbians and bisexuals are welcome.

Applications for "The Carpool Connection" are available through Friday in the Student Activities Office. Those interested in sharing rides to and from school with students in their area can contact Shirley Hewitt at ext. 2598 for more information.

Those interested in Baptist Student Ministries can participate in weekly Bible studies and discussions every Wednesday from noon to 1 p.m. in B-113, and Thursday from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. in B-112. Everyone is welcome.

The Job Fair is April 15, from 2 to 5 p.m. in the Gregory Forum. Participating employers include Lady Footlocker, Fred Meyer, Safeway Distribution Center, Providence Milwaukie Hospital and several temporary services, among others. The fair is open to CCC students and the public. For more information, contact the Career Center at CC-108.

Student Activities and ASG are promoting a CCC team to walk in the March of Dimes' "WalkAmerica." Anyone interested in joining the team or sponsoring a walker can contact Dotty at ext. 2562 or Debbie at ext. 2245, or in the Student Activities Office.

The CCC Bookstore will continue to grant full refunds for Spring Term textbooks through April 16. Buy back for books from previous terms will resume during finals week, beginning June 7.

Clackamas will host a planning meeting to begin an "Institute Network" at the college. The "Institute Network" is a program for seniors interested in creating their own college-level educational program in a flexible and non-competitive environment. The meeting is from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. For more information, call Debbie Baker at ext. 3212.

The Spring Term Red Cross Blood Drive will take place in the Community Center Mall from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. April 16 CCC students and staff, as well as the public, are encouraged to donate blood if they are able.

Vocal jazz groups from Oregon and Washington colleges -- including CCC -- will convene for the Vocal Jazz Summit this Saturday. The Summit takes place at the Gregory Forum and begins at 9 a.m. with critiques during the day; there will be a concert at 8 p.m. The public is welcome. Admission is $3 during the day and $6 for the evening performances. Call Jean Marshall at ext. 2434 for more information.

Country line dancing for women is happening tomorrow night, Thursday, at 6:30 p.m. in the Gregory Forum. The event costs $2 at the door, and several line dances will be taught. Come and enjoy an evening of dance, fun and exercise, sponsored by Focus on Women!

Spring Literary Magazine is currently accepting manuscripts of every kind, from everybody
Streeter 125

HAWAII
$441.00 PPOD
INC: Hotel-7 nights, RTA, & Taxes
Call: JULIA, 239-5253, Travel Advisors

The Clackamas Print

Editors-in-Chief:

Melissa Freels, Robert A. Hibberd

News Editor:

Nolan C. Kidwell

Feature Editor:

Heidi Branstator

Sports Editor:

Daphne Hartt

Copy Editors:

Jason Eck, Paul Valencia

Photo Editor:

Anjanette Booth

Business Manager:

Scott Morris

Staff Writers: Hafidha Acuay, Melissa Baughman, Justin Fields, Linda Gibson, Frank Jordan, Jeff Kemp, Brent King, Zach Kreinheder, Daniel J. Mala, Tina McFarland, Tyson Morrow, Michel Myers, Tracey Roozenboom, Staci Smith, Claudia Smulders, Eric St. Anthony's, Nicole Turley

Adviser: Linda Vogt

The Clackamas Print aims to be a fair and impartial newspaper covering the college community. Opinions expressed in The Clackamas Print do not necessarily reflect those of the college administration, faculty or advertisers. The Clackamas Print is a weekly publication distributed every Wednesday except for finals week. The open advertising rate is $4.13 per column inch. Clackamas Community College, 19600 S. Molalla Avenue, Oregon City, Oregon; 97045, Barlow 104. Telephone: 657-6958, ext. 2309 (office), ext. 2577 (advertising, news), ext. 2578 (features, photos, copy, sports), ext. 2576 (Editors-in-chief).

Music and barbecue accompany dedication cause he will be retiring soon. He is glad to see the project completed.

Continued from Page 1

Seven clubs on campus sponsored different faces on the fountain. "We weren't allowed to raise money outside of school, all of the money came from inside," Hooley said.

"It's nice that people have been willing to give money for art, especially students," he said.

Following the dedication ceremonies, Lee Hunt, the artist who sculpted the faces, will give an informal talk about the development of the "faces" project. Tours will also be available to view Clackamas' growing art collection.

The fountain dedication is open to the public and more information can be obtained by calling Corky Kirkpatrick at 657-6958, ext. 2538.

Photo by Anjanette Booth

College President John Keyser will be serving as master of ceremonies at the fountain dedication.

Student pennies fund scholarship contest

by Nolan C. Kidwell
News Editor

As a part of National Community College month, Clackamas is hosting the "Roads" Scholarship Competition, a 250-word essay contest which will be funded with a student penny drive.

"I think it is a great opportunity to offer more scholarship money to students and any thing that does that is a good idea," said College President John Keyser.

The winner of the scholarship competition will be awarded $100. The winning essay will go into a statewide pool with other community colleges, of which four essays will be selected, with each receiving $400.

Scholarship essays are due April 9 and are open to all students who will be returning to Clackamas for Fall term 1993. The winners will be announced at the AACC National Convention, which will be held in Portland, one of the many events in community college month.

Students entering the contest will write about how "Clackamas Community College was my road to opportunity because..." Forms and official guidelines for the scholarship contest are available in the Financial Aid Office.

One penny for each student at the college will go to fund the scholarship. This means that Clackamas has a goal of 27,000 pennies or $270, which will be collected in jars around campus.

The pennies will be collected until April 23 when they will be taken to the Oregon Convention Center for display.

Community college month will also feature an AACC rally with an ASG barbecue on April 28 where Governor Barbara Roberts will be present.

A specially designed community college flag will be presented to the governor at the rally. The flag left Treasure Valley Community College April 1 on a round-the-state relay, in which it will travel to each community college campus throughout the state.

Clackamas will be the last of 16 colleges in the relay and will carry the flag to the AACC rally. Each college has devised a different way to carry the flag to the next college in the relay, for instance helicopters, rafts and covered wagons.

Clackamas will receive the flag on April 26.

College paper awarded for success

by Melissa Freels
Co-Editor-in-Chief

The Clackamas Print, the college's weekly newspaper, received three awards at the Oregon Newspaper Publishers Association Editors Conference Friday in Beaverton.

The Print took first place in the Best Sports Story category, second place in the Best Section category and honorable mention in the Best News category. In the contest, The Print competed with other Oregon college newspapers with circulations below 5000.

"I'm extremely proud of the journalism students at Clackamas Community College and I'm happy to see their efforts rewarded," said Linda Vogt, The Print staff's adviser.

Staff Writer and Co-Copy Editor Paul Valencia received the first place award in the Best Sports Story category for his article, "Hickey, Polack lead runners into NWAACC meet" from the Nov. 4 issue of The Print. The article, he explained, is one of his favorites of the year.

"I didn't go to the ceremony, so when I found out about it the next day in class, it was a surprise ... it was a nice surprise," Valencia said.

The second place award in the Best Section category was awarded to The Print for the Opinion section.

Robert A. Hibberd, co-editor-in-chief, received the honorable mention award in the Best News Story category for "Hinkle, Lively present both sides of Measure 9," an article which appeared in the Oct. 28 issue of The Print.

STUDENT SPECIAL

Lunch for two

Two personal pepperoni pan pizzas and two soft drinks

$3.99

No delivery on lunch specials

Makin' it Great!

650-8200

1277 Molalla Ave.

Oregon City, Oregon

11am-11pm Sun. thru Thur.

11am-12am Fri. and Sat.

We deliver to the CCC campus