

You're Invited To An Unforgettable Experience Greenland...An Expedition

*Join Cecelia Nunn and Wayne Haack as they present their dramatic story of the longest sea kayaking expedition
in Greenlandic history.*

A Shields/Shula Production
"A Bun Chilling Experience"

Noon on Wednesday, February 23, 1994 in the Gregory Forum.

Admission is Free. For more information contact Don Shula, ext. 2324.

sponsored by:

ASG Activities

Adult High School Diploma Program

Outdoor Club

International Education Committee

AT OREGON TECH

TECHNOLOGY IS A PERFORMING ART

Seeing is believing. So join the cast of characters at OIT's talk show-style College Information Night. You'll see Oregon Tech's new video (pick up a copy of your own if you choose) and learn about the exciting role you could play in the engineering, health and business technologies.

Oregon Tech has modern rehearsal space and state-of-the-art props in the form of laboratories and equipment. Our graduates are highly sought after in industry casting calls and can be seen portraying a variety of characters from technical writers to design engineers to imaging technologies to operations managers.

Join us for a fun-filled evening that could change your life. Get a ring-side seat for the only live talk show in town. Performances begin at 7 p.m. at the following locations near you.

MARK YOUR CALENDAR AND PLAN TO ATTEND

Salem
Monday, February 7
Chemeketa Community College
Building 3, Rooms 118-120

Portland/Beaverton
Tuesday, February 8
Greenwood Inn, Fir Room
10700 S.W. Allen Blvd.

Portland/Clackamas
Wednesday, February 9
OIT Metro Center
7726 S.E. Harmony Road

You will have the opportunity to interact improvisationally with representatives of OIT's Admissions and Financial Aid Offices, faculty members, students and President Lawrence Wolf.

Oregon Tech is one of the most unique members of the Oregon State System of Higher Education, offering accredited bachelor's programs in the health, engineering and business technologies.

For more information, call 1-800-422-2017