

News In Brief

Compiled By Vicki Welch

Annual Writers' Club Contest deadline is Monday. Entries may be fiction, poetry or creative non-fiction. There may be a maximum of 6 poems and/or 1 fiction or non-fiction entry. Entries must be typed, double-spaced with three copies of each entry. Entries must have a cover sheet with name and titles of works and Social Security number on individual entries. For more information, call Allen Widerburg at ext. 2359.

There is a list of more than 400 different private sector scholarships that are available to the general public and some are for the left-handed, the handicapped, minorities, church members and former Boy/Girl Scouts. Each includes scholarship names, addresses, deadlines and summaries. Send a self-addressed stamped (1 stamp) legal sized envelope to: Scholarships, 16440 SW 113th Ave., Tigard, OR 97224.

Come get your blood pressure checked today from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in CC-126. There is no charge, but donations to benefit the local chapter of the National Student Nurses Association will be accepted.

Attention: The Learning Center Lab, the Library and Media Services will be open on Thursday Feb. 24, the day of the skills contest, although day classes have been canceled.

We would like to congratulate the new members of Phi Theta Kappa, Alpha Xi Zeta chapter, who were inducted Jan. 26. Phi Theta Kappa embodies the hallmarks of leadership, scholarship, fellowship and service. Phi Theta Kappa welcomes all new members who will strive in the remaining year to achieve chapter and personal goals in these four areas.

The Travis Air Force Wind Quintet concert, scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 22, in the Gregory Forum, has been canceled.

The CCC Science Department will be providing a slide presentation on the Nahanni River and the Nahanni National Park in Canada's NW Territories Feb. 17 from 12:30 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. in P-101. The Nahanni River winds 360 miles toward the arctic and is considered to be the world's most pristine and beautiful canoe route.

"Greenland... An Expedition" is a three projector, dissolve-slide show with audio, narrated by Cecelia Nunn and Wayne Haack, photo-journalists/world travelers. Join them Feb. 23 at 12 p.m. in the Gregory Forum.

Skills contest and forum not just for high school students

by Tina McFarland
The Print Editorial Staff

February 24 marks the day of the 16th annual Clackamas Regional Skills Contest. The contest, which is co-sponsored by CCC and Clackamas County ESD, will have representation from all Clackamas County high schools, both private and public.

High school students will begin arriving on campus at approximately 8:30 a.m. and the competitions will begin at 9 a.m. according to Mindy Brown, campus coordinator. Due to the expected large turnout and the schedule of the contest, all day classes will be cancelled.

On the agenda for this year's contest is the third annual leadership forum. The forum will be held in the CC Mall from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Brown said this year's topic, volunteerism, is pertinent to college students as well as the high school students.

According to Brown, the contest provides an opportunity for high school students who are strong in their respective areas to meet and compete with other students with similar strengths and goals.

In an awards ceremony to be held March 14, first-, second- and third-place winners will be announced and awarded. The first-place winners may be eligible for a one-term tuition scholarship to Clackamas Community College.

"A lot of students look forward to that neat possibility. It gives the opportunity to interact with county students they may not otherwise have the opportunity to meet. Plus it's a chance to test their skills," Brown said.

Brown said more volunteers are always welcome, so anyone interested in being a part of this year's Skills Contest should contact Brown at ext. 2261.

'Maximum Sex' leaves little room for love

by Jeff Kemp
The Print Co-Editor-in-Chief

A handful of Clackamas student body and staff attended "Maximum Sex," a video on relationships, sex and you, last Thursday and Friday in the Gregory Forum (See page 1).

The video featured Josh McDowell, a nationally-recognized speaker on sex and the influence of religion in relationships and life.

I was personally relieved to hear the straightforwardness McDowell had to offer his audience. It is rare to see someone actually discuss the delicate subject so candidly. I was apprehensive however upon learning who the sponsors of the event were

(the Campus Crusade for Christ International and the Baptist Student Ministries). My apprehensions, as it turned out, were not without foundation.

McDowell apparently felt that by using sexually-transmitted diseases, he could scare his audience into abstinence. Many of Friday's audience in the Gregory Forum didn't seem to buy it. He figured that even if his spiritual influence wouldn't do the trick, throwing terrifying statistics down his listeners' throats would.

Heckles and laughter were abundant toward the back of the auditorium when McDowell used such wide sweeping generalizations as, "Let's face it, most guys just want to hit the sheets," and "If you don't stop (making the decision to have premarital sex) you're no better than a dog in heat."

I find it appalling to hear a man that spreads the word of God and preaches the rewards of love and strong relationships, cutting down the very hopes of the thousands of Americans that are infected with HIV. "They've (scientists) never found a cure for a lenti virus (AIDS)," McDowell said.

I realize that we must not lose sight of the validity of this horrific plague Mr. McDowell, but I myself strongly believe we must never give up the hope that research will bring an end to the pain and anguish that the HIV infected suffer.

Overall, the message given by the BSM and the Campus Crusade for Christ International was a good one. I left the Gregory Forum with several good tools for my relationship. I also took with me some valuable statistics on HIV and AIDS. For that I am grateful.

Is it wrong, Mr. McDowell, BSM and the Campus Crusade for Christ International, for 20-year-olds to responsibly and monogamously show one another how much they love each other? I think not. For my part, I hope I still go to heaven. If loving in this way is wrong, however, I'm not sure I would want to go there anyway.

Artists fully employed by Clackamas

by Vicki Welch
The Print Staff

A kaleidoscope of colorful paintings, photographs, pottery, drawings and fabric artwork will be on display at Artfully Employed, an exhibit of art by the faculty and staff of Clackamas Community College, Feb. 16 to March 10.

The display is open to the public in the college's Pauling Gallery from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., Mondays through Thursdays and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Fridays.

Exhibits include a patchwork quilt pieced together using the bargello style of quilting, still life and landscape paintings in oil, acrylic and watercolor, charcoal and pencil drawings, cross-stitch work and nature photography.

Art instructor and show organizer Les Tipton, also in the show, said the exhibit demonstrates how art has become a part of life even for people who aren't professional artists or art instructors. Exhibitors include instructors from science, business, psychology, and English, secretaries, and a public safety officer, among other staff members.

"It's a wonderful idea. I think there's a great deal of talent that people are not aware of," said Marylou Rupp, a contributor to the art show.

English instructor Alan Widerburg, another contributor, agreed, adding, "It's something I enjoy doing."

THE CLACKAMAS PRINT

Editors-in-Chief:
Heidi Branstator, Jeff Kemp (Ext. 2576)
News Editor - Maury Wenber (ext. 2576)
Feature Editor- Tina McFarland (Ext. 2577)
Sports Editor- Justin Fields (Ext. 2577)
Copy Editor- Paul Valencia (Ext. 2309)
Photo Editor- Anjanette Booth (Ext. 2309)
Co-Business Managers - Michele Myers, Tyson Morrow (Ext. 2578)

Staff Writers/Photographers:
Leila Aman, Troy Blackledge, Nate Clark, Eric Eatherton, Jocelyn Gauthier, Chris Haberman, Jason Hunter, Russ Jones, Frank Jordan, Cori Kargel, Zach Kreinheder, Chad Pateson, Khan Pham, Michelle Shipman, Andrea Smith, Jesse Sowa, Jan Stahley, Nicole Turley, Vicki Welch.

Ad sales: Tom Wick

Secretary: Cheryl Willemse
Ext. 2309)
Advisor: Linda Vogt (Ext. 2310)

The Clackamas Print aims to report the news in an honest, unbiased, professional manner. The opinions expressed in The Clackamas Print do not necessarily reflect those of the student body, college administration, its faculty or The Print's advertisers. The Clackamas Print is a weekly publication distributed every Wednesday except for finals week. The advertising rate is $4.50 per column inch.

All letters to the editors will be considered for publication and must be submitted by 2 p.m. the Friday prior to the next issue.

Clackamas Community College, 19600 S. Molalla Avenue, Oregon City, Oregon; 97045, Barlow 104. Telephone: (503) 657-6958, ext. 2309.

— CFCU —

CLACKAMAS FEDERAL CREDIT UNION INVITES CCC STUDENTS TO JOIN!

All full-time Clackamas Community College students are now eligible to join Clackamas Federal Credit Union, a non-profit financial cooperative. Once you join, your family members will also be eligible to become members/owners.

Clackamas FCU offers a wide range of services such as: Checking accounts with no minimum balance & no monthly fees, free audio response and ATM's, savings and investment accounts, auto and other loans with low rates, VISA cards, safe deposit boxes and more!

If you are 21 and under, you need only to maintain a savings account of $5, while those 22 and over will need a $100 savings. We have offices in the Hilltop Oregon City area and the Milwaukie Expressway area. Call 656-0671 or 653-7788 for more information or simply stop by either office.

Join today and see the difference. We welcome you to become a member/owner of Clackamas Federal Credit Union.

270 Warner Millie Rd. - Oregon City, OR 97045 - Phone (503) 659-0671 FAX (503) 655-7658

4400 SE International Way - Milwaukie, OR 97222-4689 - Phone (503) 653-7788 FAX (503) 653-9771