Senator visits Clackamas

by Maury Webber
The Print Editorial Staff

State Senator Catherine Webber met with President Keyser and several staff members and students at a luncheon last week to discuss the future of education at Clackamas and in Oregon.

Webber, who currently chairs the Senate Education Committee, was on hand to listen to the concerns and suggestions of students and faculty.

"In 20 years we'll see a different configuration of education," Webber said.

To attain this new configuration, Webber admits that some changes need to take place.

"We need to work on better budgeting, more job opportunities and access to new technology," she said. "I think everyone should get on the information superhighway."

Webber said she feels uniquely qualified to relate to students at Clackamas, especially since she completed the first two years of her education at a community college.

"Every now and then I will take a class or two at Chemeketa to stay in touch," she said.

Among those attending were Heidi Branstator, Co-Editor-in-Chief of the Clackamas Print, Linda Vogt, the journalism instructor, and Frank Jordan, a student.

"I think it's encouraging to have someone who's been there come here to listen to our concerns. Maybe we can look forward to seeing some changes, since she chairs the education committee," Branstator said.

Vogt and Jordan agreed. "We need to have more communication between the colleges and the state government and this was a great format for that," Jordan said.

"I think it's significant that the Senator takes the time to talk to the students because they are an important part of the voting public," Vogt said.

In May, Webber will be running for the U.S. House of Representatives from the fifth district.

Advising for Fall available now

by Jason Hunter

If you are wondering what classes you have to take to get your degree, or what colleges have what you need, or even if you don't know what your major is, there is someone that can help you.

During April and May, Group Advising Sessions by major emphasis will be held at Clackamas Community College. This will provide a great opportunity to work with counselors and advisors on your educational plan. They will also help you plan your classes for the Fall Term. Early Fall registration takes place the week of May 23.

On April 12 advisors will meet with Nursing and Medical Assistant majors in CC 152 from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. They will have another meeting for these majors on May 17 in CC 152 from 2 to 3 p.m.

On April 14 advisors will meet with General Transfer-Humanities, Social Science, PE/Health, Education, and Fine Arts in CC 127 from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m.

On April 19 advisors will meet with Accounting, Business, Economics and Marketing majors in CC 152 from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m.

On April 28 advisors will meet with Office Administration, Clerical Office and Medical Receptionist majors in CC 127 from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m.

On May 3 advisors will meet with Transfer - Undecided students to get them on track toward a major. The meeting will take place in CC 152 from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m.

On May 12 advisors will meet with Automotive, Building Construction, Drafting and Manufacturing Technology majors in CC 127 from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m.

On May 17 advisors will meet with Criminal Justice, Ornamental Horticulture and Water Quality majors in CC 152 from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m.

On May 19 advisors will be in room CC 127 from 12:30 to 1:30 for an open advising session.

If you are a Science, Engineering, Math, or Computer Science major your advising time was on April 5 in CC 126 from 12:30 to 1:30. Do not hesitate to call and set up an appointment with one of your advisors or attend the open advising session on May 19 in CC 127 from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. There is always something that they can help you with.

Before attending the meeting make sure that you have your advising folder, a completed evaluation (if available), a pencil and your placement scores.
