

Check It Out:
Senate president speaks to students
 See page 2

The Print

Clackamas

Wednesday, Feb. 1, 1995

AT A GLANCE

Compiled by Cori Kargel
 Copy Editor

✓ Come to the Resume Workshop and learn the basics of resume writing. The workshop will also include preparing cover letters and providing references. Cost is $5. For more information, call ext. 2409, or register for WKS 6-02.

✓ The Small Business Development Center is offering a "Going into Business" workshop, introducing the essentials of opening your own business. The course will include discussions about licensing, permits, tax requirements, hiring, developing a business plan and identifying markets. Cost is $30. For more information, or to register, call 656-4447.

✓ Become a volunteer for Healthy Start of Clackamas County. Visit new mothers at the hospital or at home. Bilingual Spanish-speaking volunteers are especially needed. If your skills are in organization, volunteer to work in the Clothing Bank, which provides clothing and supplies for infants and pregnant women. Training began Jan. 23. For more information, call Dixie Whetsell at 655-8430.

✓ The Foster Grandparent Program is looking for older adults on limited incomes to help children who have special needs in learning situations in Clackamas County. Under the guidance of a supervisor, foster grandparents give individual attention and personalized care to help children grow academically, socially and emotionally. Foster grandparents receive $200 per month non-taxable stipend, a daily meal while in service and transportation reimbursement. For more information, call 249-8215.

✓ "Exploring Our Dreams," the latest seminar from Focus on Women, will focus on what secrets and messages dreams hold about life. Marilynne Keyser will give examples of the use of dream work to know more about our health, relationships and hidden goals. For more information, call ext. 2548.

✓ The next Aging Issues discussion will focus on Family Dynamics. Dr. Joanne Gribble, a family therapist, will discuss caregiver interaction with the families of clients. For more information, call ext. 2456.

✓ Learn about the wonders of the Northwest winter skies at the ELC's astronomy class. Participants will use various instruments and survey a number of stellar phenomena. The class will be from 7 to 10 p.m., Feb. 6, at the Haggart Memorial Observatory. Cost is $45. For more information, or to register, call ext.2351.

In men's basketball action: Cougars get an 'A' for midterm performance

by Jesse Sowa
 Sports Writer

The men's basketball team definitely receives an 'A' for their hard work in turning the flagging season around.

Spectators were able to take a break from mid-term stress to applaud the two-game home wins the Cougars recently came up with.

The Cougars held off a late second-half run by Portland Community College Jan. 25 to beat the Panthers 90-85. Clackamas had to come from behind on Saturday to defeat Lane CC 73-69.

In the game against PCC, the Cougars got off to a slow start, but still managed to maintain the lead throughout most of the first half. The Panthers stayed in the game during the first half with some great outside shooting by their guards.

Kenny Walker hit Jay Moore for a lay-in, and Walker added a jumper and two foul shots of his own to give Clackamas a 24-17 advantage with 9:30 remaining in the first half.

Moore nailed a three-pointer off a Ryan Coffey pass and an 18-footer from the corner for a 29-19 lead. Jawanza Hadley came off the bench late in the first half to score six points and help the Cougars maintain a 44-36 advantage.

Moore hit a lot of good open shots for 15 points in the first half after Portland sank back in a zone.

"They sagged off of me and I just put them up and they just luckily they went down," he said.

Moore also grabbed a ton of rebounds in the first 20 minutes to keep his team in the game.

"Coach Kiser just tells me to go to the outside boards," said Moore. "I just listen to coach. He's always right."

Jay Lassen and Aaron Pearson provided most of the spark for Clackamas early in the second half.

Pearson hit two jumpers and a pair of free throws while Lassen added three baskets off of rebounds and three foul shots to give the Cougars a 66-46 advantage.

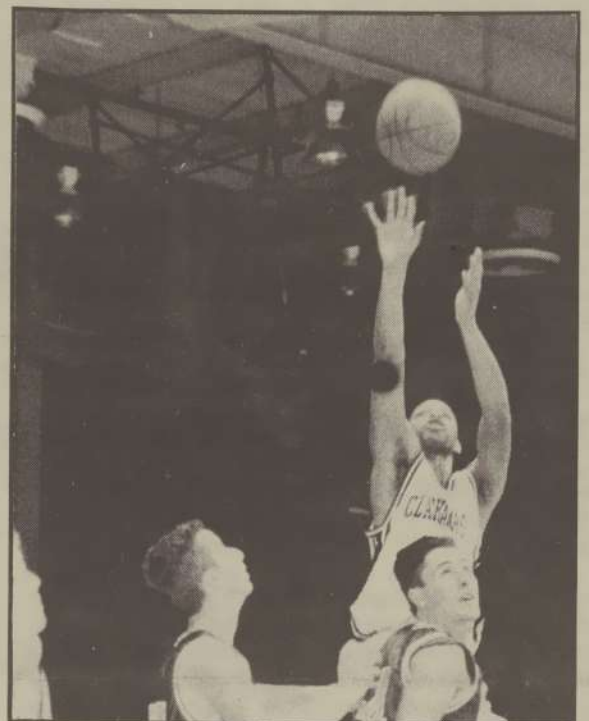

Photo by Josh Kehler
 The Cougars heat up with a spectacular mid-season performance after a cool start.

Continued on page 4

Scholarship provides child care for students

by Christi Snavelly
 Opinion Editor

Here is the question: What do you do when you cannot afford to go to school because you lack funds for quality child care?

That exact question has been a matter of concern to our ASG. In fact, they have made it a priority as one of their many goals this year.

The Child Care Scholarship program began fall term of '94 by purchasing two full-time slots at the Family Resource Center. The slots were then divided into seven part-time child care scholarships.

"The scholarship program provides a short-term solution to the problem. It provides affordable student child care," said Rachel Austen, vice president of ASG.

With very limited advertising, ASG received 21 applications in one week's time. Recipients of the scholarships had to provide proof of financial need for child support, complete a minimum of eight hours per term, maintain a GPA of at least a 2.0 and the child must be between six weeks to five years of age.

"My biggest financial hurdle has been trying to pay for child care," said Elizabeth Funk, a recipient of a scholarship for fall term. "The child care scholarship that I have received has helped reduce my financial burden, and has helped to make it possible for me to continue my education. "Receiving the child care scholarship has been an encouragement to me in that somebody believes in me enough to want to help with my child care expenses."

Betsy Partridge was given a scholarship for her son Alexander. She had this to say in her letter to ASG: "This is not only a gift for the adult parent students, but it is also a gift for the children of these parents. I don't know what is going to happen to this program in the future, but I must tell you it has certainly been a benefit to the Partridge family."

Due to the tremendous response that the program received in Fall term, ASG decided to advance the program to a higher level. They sent a proposal to the CCC Foundation Board Scholarship Committee asking for assistance.

"We wanted to get administrative support of it (the scholarship program) through funding, especially because then we know that they have taken a personal interest in it. This ensures that it committees to create this big scholarship program to offer a variety of different scholarships for student needs here. Child care is a really big priority. When that program comes about, child care issues will be addressed through those scholarships," Austen said.

"The scholarship program provides a short-term solution to the problem. It provides affordable student child care."
 - Rachel Austen
 Vice President of ASG

Hopefully, through the efforts of ASG and other people and organizations on campus, child care scholarships will become a permanent option for those who couldn't attend CCC without them. The results and appreciation can best be seen directly by those it assists, like Funk, who said it all when she ended her letter to ASG:

"By furthering my education, I am learning the skills that will one day make me a great doctor. Through my services, I will give back to all those people who have helped me along the way, and so your gift of the child care scholarship is a gift that will keep on giving."

scholarships will become a permanent option for those who couldn't attend CCC without them. The results and appreciation can best be seen directly by those it assists, like Funk, who said it all when she ended her letter to ASG:

"By furthering my education, I am learning the skills that will one day make me a great doctor. Through my services, I will give back to all those people who have helped me along the way, and so your gift of the child care scholarship is a gift that will keep on giving."

INDEX

NEWS
 Page 1

OPINIONS
 Page 2

FEATURES
 Page 3 & 4