

Editor's Welcome

Laney Fouse
Editor-in-Chief

The Print staff would like to extend a welcome to all new and returning students and staff.

This special edition of The Clackamas Print is the first time in the paper's history that it is being published during the first week of school. Because of the many changes affecting students and staff, we felt it would be a handy guide.

In the coming weeks, The Print plans to bring a variety of stories including news, features, arts and entertainment, sports, and information pertinent to your success at college.

We are an excited and motivated group of writers, photographers, cartoonists and editors.

Under the guidance of our advisor, Linda Vogt, who has chalked up ten years in the journalism department, we hope to exceed our wildest expectations.

We wish everyone a great school year.

Men's Cross Country team wins Whitman Invitational to start season

Brendon Neal
Sports Editor

The Clackamas cross country men's team has gone 15-1 in the first three weeks of the season and hope to get their sixth straight Northwest Athletic Association of Community Colleges championship (NWAACC).

The women have not put together a whole team together yet because of injuries and sickness. However, Head Coach Mike Hodges says the women should be able to compete as a team this Saturday at the Clackamas Community College Invitational.

The men started the season by placing first in the Whitman Invitational with four runners placing in the top ten: Cocaptain Travis Armstrong, 5th place; Evan Goin, 7th place; Eric Eidsvik, 8th; and David Lemarr, 10th.

Jennifer Rea placed 11th in the women's competition and Mishe Simantel placed 43rd.

The Clackamas Cougars placed third in the University of Portland Invitational on Sept. 14. Their wins included Oregon State and league rival Clark College.

On Sept. 23 the men placed second behind George Fox at the Big Cross '96 in Pascal, WA. Armstrong placed 3rd to lead the men whose rankings included: Eric Eidsvik, 8th place and Evan Goin, 16th.

Rea placed 4th in the women's competition and Kendal White placed 21st.

Armstrong, a sophomore from Mossy Rock High School, was the lead runner for Clackamas in the first half of the last season, but his season ended when he came down with mononucleosis. He won the 1500-meter track championship last year and is an Honor Roll student.

Goin is from Silverton and placed 14th in the NWAACC championships last year in cross country.

Eidsvik is a freshman from Bellingham and was one of the top 20 in Washington last year.

Lemarr is a freshman from Oregon City and went to state in both cross country and track.

Cocaptain Mishe Simantel also comes from Oregon City and is an Honor Roll student.

"She is probably the hardest worker we have. She gives 100%, both in practices and meets," said Hodges.

Jemory Benson freshman from Linnwood Washington, placed 17th in state last year.

Micah McCool, a freshman from Jefferson High School, went to state in both cross country and track.

Jon Gotchall is from Gladstone and was in the top seven in the NWAACC tournament last year.

Andy Bradley, freshman from Incline Village, Nevada, was the state champion in cross country and track. Bradley is on the injured list but may play this weekend.

Josh Gullickson, a sophomore from Rogue River, was a member of his high school's state championship team.

Kevin Meek, also from Rogue River, placed 10th at state as a junior in high school. Meek was part of Rogue River's state championship team last two years.

Tony White, freshman from Franklin High School; and Josh Huffman, freshman from Tillamook, went to state in both cross country and track.

Rea, freshman from Clarkston WA, placed 3rd in state
