Hats off to Plant Services personnel

Laney Fouse
Editor-in-Chief

The editorial column is written to express the opinion of the editorial staff on various subjects affecting the college community.

Today's column is not really any different. The exception is, instead of an opinion, I would like to express an appreciation for those who work in Plant Services.

With the water-intrusion problems in Streeter Hall, the Dye Learning Center and other buildings, their workload has increased. Not only are they moving whole departments to other buildings, but also helping with the general clean-up.

Each day I pass one of the Plant Services workers, I'm greeted with a smile and a "hello."

Thus, I'm reminded the real movers and shakers are usually the ones behind the scenes.

Today, I would like to tip my hat to the Plant Services personnel for their continued "grace under fire."

Indonesia: Tropical Paradise?

English Instructor Kate Gray went to Indonesia this past fall, expecting a tropical paradise; during her one week in Jakarta and two weeks traveling, she found art, culture and pollution of a people a world away.

Don't miss her slide presentation on Tuesday, Feb. 25 at 12:30 p.m. in CC127.

NEWS BRIEFS

Graduation petitions being accepted

Petitions for Graduation are now being accepted at the Registrar's Office and the Help Center for students planning to complete their program of study at the end of spring term. A petition must be filed to indicate a student's desire to have a completed certificate of degree posted to their transcript. A separate petition must be filed for each certificate of degree. Information regarding the graduation ceremony will be sent during spring term. The ceremony will be held Friday, June 13, 1997. Petitions must be in the Registrar's Office by April 11 to ensure inclusion in the graduation program.

Women to share poetry, music in special celebration

Poetry and music by women artists will highlight a celebration luncheon on Wednesday, March 5, in honor of Women's History Week.

The event is sponsored by the college's AAWCC Focus on Women Program, and will be held at noon in the Gregory Forum. Cost is $5, which includes lunch; pre-registration is encouraged.

Several members of "Chrysalis," a women's writing group, will read from their original works. Original music will be performed by Kathleen Fallon. Fallon is a member of the group "Motherlode"; they have recorded four albums, and perform regularly throughout the Northwest.

To register, sign up for WKS 1-04. For more information, contact Linda Vogt, coordinator of the Focus on Women program, at ext. 2310. All are welcome.

Anxiety screening clinic scheduled for March

Is college life stressing you out? Do you have signs of an anxiety disorder: anxiety attacks, social anxiety, sleep disturbance, difficulty concentrating, easily fatigued or restlessness? If you, or someone you know, suffers from any of these symptoms of anxiety, free help is available. You are invited to attend a College Anxiety Disorders Screening Day where you can view a video, take an anxiety disorders screening test and have a confidential meeting with a doctor or mental health professional. Free educational material will also be available.

The event is planned for Thursday, March 13 at 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. in CC127 and is sponsored by Phi Theta Kappa and the college's Counseling Dept.

Writers' Club Contest deadline approaching

The Writers' Club Contest deadline is Thursday, Feb. 20. You may submit up to three poems, one essay and one piece of fiction. Submit four copies of each entry. Include a cover page for each copy. On each entry include the title and your social security number. The cover page for each entry should include the title, the category, your name, your social security number, your address and your phone number. All entries will be considered for the literary magazine, Synesthesia.
