Congratulations to the Portland Winter Hawks on their Memorial Cup Championship!!!

Sophomore sprinter Dante Betha gathers himself before competing in last week's Southern Region Championships. Betha is favored heading into this week's NWAACC Championships in Spokane, Wash.

NWAACC Championships

The track and field team travels to Spokane, Wash. today to compete in this year's Northwest Athletic Association of Community Colleges [NWAACC] Championships.

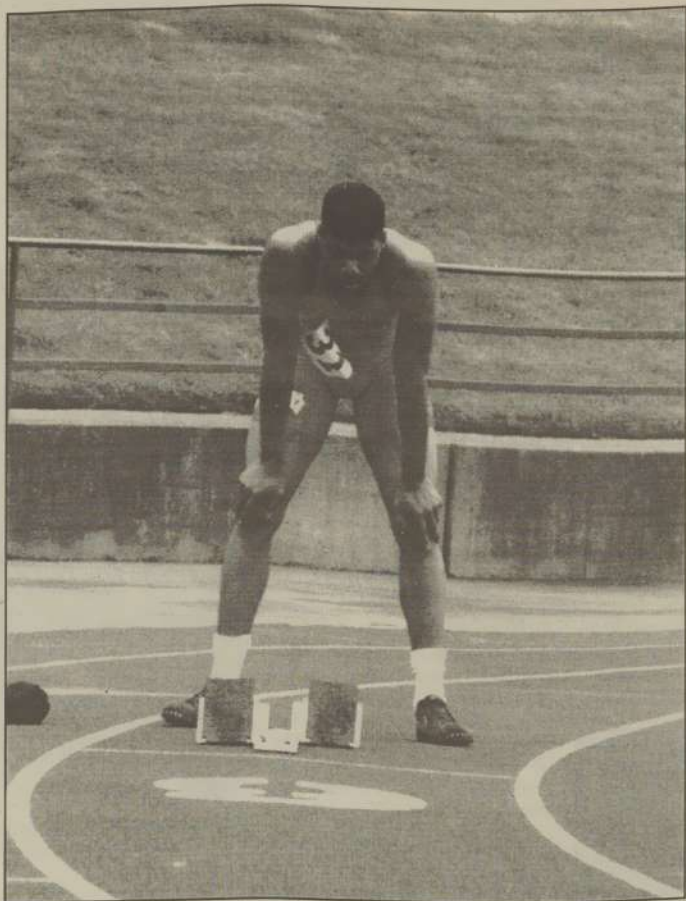

The two-day event gets underway tomorrow at 1 p.m. with the men's and women's long jump.

For the men's team, Clackamas pole vaulters and sprinters are expected to perform well.

Javelin throwers and distance runners on the women's team should record strong marks.

"The men should probably finish second," noted Clackamas Head Coach Jack Kegg. "Spokane is favored to take the title so we need to have a very strong meet to defeat them. If we do, though, we should contend."

"The women are predicted to finish fourth or fifth."
