

Tom AndersonCustodian*

Tom is exuberant about working at Clackamas and enjoying his time in Oregon country. He recently moved back to Oregon after spending 26 years in Southern California. Tom is married and has two children; they are enjoying the quiet and cool of Oregon.

Nora Brodnicki*Art History/Studio Art Instructor*

Having held numerous teaching positions, organized an art lecture series and art faculty panel discussions, Nora brings valuable assets and interests to CCC. Nora likes to challenge students and create a learning environment meant to foster an exchange of ideas. Her own art is related to issues of medicine and health. She holds a Masters of Arts in Art History from Syracuse University and a Masters of Fine Arts in Ceramics from the University of New York.

Jean DeVenneyStudent Success/Retention Counselor*

Jean moved to Oregon from Alaska. She has nearly 20 years of counseling and related experience; she specializes in services to disabled students, academic advising, and teaching new student orientation. She is also the liaison for the Humanities Department and co-liaison for the Nursing Department. She was awarded "Outstanding Faculty of the Year" at Kenei Peninsula College in 1997. Kayaking is one of her favorite hobbies.

Richard EspinoLife Science Instructor*

As a Clackamas Community College student from 1984-1987, Rich took pre-medical requirements and returned with a doctorate in chiropractic medicine in 1990. Since then, Rich has taught anatomy and physiology and participated in curriculum development. In addition to experience in private practice, Rich also taught at PCC, facilitated weekly clinical group sessions for youth and worked on behalf of the on-site Portland Public Schools Alternative School.

Nicolas "Nick" HamelChemistry Instructor*

Raised in West Linn, Nick holds a Bachelors of Science Degree in Chemistry from Oregon State University and a Ph.D. in Environmental Science Resources from Portland State University. At PSU, he received the Paul Emmett Memorial Award for outstanding work and achievement. At Lower Columbia College, Nick helped create the website for the chemistry department and develop a faculty mentoring program. He spends most of his free time participating in outdoor activities with his wife and two children.

Glen JeneweinComputer Science Instructor*

Glen's experience in developing on-line courses and web pages will be a great asset to Clackamas. In fact, some of Glen's distance learning courses are already being offered. He has more than four years of teaching experience at community colleges, a Bachelor of Science in Education from the University of Nevada and a Master of Science in Education Information Systems Technology from Western Oregon University.

Clackamas Community College welcomes new employees

As the school of changes: schedule, new campus, new instructors of teaching at CCC, prepared for making students and instructors.

There are many and instructors working. Without them we would have many new faculty members and are ready to help can.

Teaching is a person to spend our preparing projects and have an important job goes without glory and they deserve all the give.

This year's staff employees is an excellent member brings some table. Some are working great in the outdoors and some are new to their background, the helping and instructing.
