

Local band brings rock, rhythm, blues to campus

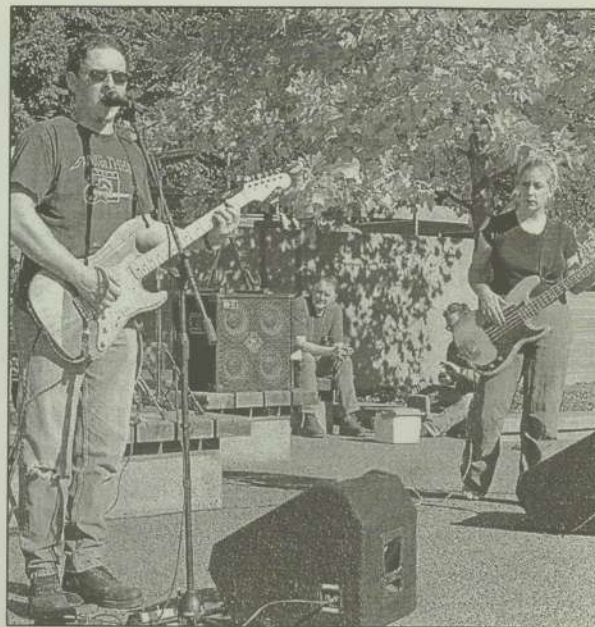

Ennis in Theory played on campus last Friday, as one of the events for Drug and Alcohol Awareness week

Ennis in Theory played on campus last Friday for Drug and Alcohol Awareness Week from 12-2 p.m. in the courtyard. This is the third time the band has been on campus for ASG sponsored events including last year's Spring Fair and Environmental Week.

Kevin Ennis, lead guitarist and vocalist, Cassidy Blackburn, drummer and Chanda Ennis, bassist, make up the band Ennis in Theory. Kevin Ennis and Chanda Ennis founded the band almost five years ago.

The band is currently hoping to be recorded and has been promoting itself by playing at various clubs and bars in the Portland Metropolitan Area. Kevin and Chanda Ennis were married over the summer, and have been in the band together since it was first created.
