

Search for the next Clackamas president advances

STEVE NIELSEN
News Editor

The search for a new Clackamas College president entered a new stage last week as the Presidential Screening Committee met with Oregon School Board Association (OSBA) consultant Bob Burns for preliminary instruction and training.

The OSBA will start advertising for presidential candidates this week and will take applications from now until March 16.

After that, the 19 member screening committee, made of staff, students and CCC foundation associates, will review the applications and furnish Burns with the finalists who will then be presented to the board for approval.

Though the screening committee proceedings are confidential, students and faculty will have a chance to meet with finalists in a public forum Apr. 17 and 18 before the board selects the new president and signs a contract with him or her in another public meeting on May 2. The new president will actually start July 1.

Two weeks ago, the Board of Education approved a list of the preferred professional qualifications and personal qualities the board would like to see in the next president.

These qualifications were established through discussions with students, staff, foundation and community members. Some of the qualifications are: a strong academic background, preferably a doctorate degree, a strong commitment to community relations, experience in fundraising, support for diversity in people, ideas and programs, and unquestionable integrity and honesty with high ethical and moral standards.

MIKE POLLOCK / Clackamas Print
President John Keyser speaks at the opening of the new wing of the Family Resource Center yesterday.

MIKE POLLOCK / Clackamas Print
President John Keyser's soon to be empty office (left) is filled with mementos of his 16 years of serving the community. The new president will be chosen May 2 in a special board meeting and will take over the responsibilities of his presidency as well as this office beginning July 1.

Recent campus thefts prompt tighter security measures

STEVE NIELSEN
News Editor

A laser printer was stolen from the business department in McLoughlin Hall, room 241 last Friday sometime between 6:30 and 6:45 a.m.

Administrative secretary Mary Scheufeli noticed the printer was missing after she returned from the copy room that morning. She had also noticed someone with a big white delivery truck parked in the driveway between McLoughlin and Gregory Forum before she left.

"When I came back, the printer was gone, and so was the truck," said Scheufeli.

An incident report, that mentions the truck and someone about six feet tall, weighing approximately 200 lbs. and wearing a green jacket, was filed with public safety. Details about the theft, including the serial number of the printer, will appear in state and national databases in case the printer turns up in a pawnshop.

"There was a lot of stuff in that room," said Larry Dexheimer, assistant administrator of public safety. "He was selective about what he took."

The printer cost the college about $1700 when they purchased it five years ago, though its market value is much lower than that now.

"We have secured the other printer [in M241]," said Scheufeli. "So they're not going to walk out with another one."

According to Dexheimer, Bibles were also taken from social science instructor Bill Briare's office, in room 225 of McLoughlin Hall, a week earlier. Partly as a result of these recent thefts, public safety is now looking into further limiting the hours that buildings are open. They have also considered marking electronics by engraving or branding them to make them easier to identify and to discourage people from taking them.

BIOLOGY . SECONDARY EDUCATION . MARKETING . SOCIAL STUDIES . ENGLISH .

PORTLAND CONNECTION

Concordia is designed to help you succeed. You'll establish connections throughout Portland that will keep you ahead of the game and close to home.

- We accept the OTAA (Oregon transfer degree)
- Concordia is an accredited University recognized for quality
- Personal attention is given to make transfer as easy as possible
- Most majors include mentors and internships
- Merit scholarships and financial aid are available
- Day and evening classes

1-800-321-9371
www.cu-portland.edu
admissions@cu-portland.edu

CONNECT AT CONCORDIA UNIVERSITY
2811 NE Holman St · Portland · Oregon · 97211

E-COMMERCE . PSYCHOLOGY . ACCOUNTING/FINANCE . BUSINESS . ELEMENTARY EDUCATION . HEALTH CARE ADMINISTRATION . ENTREPRENEURSHIP .

Do You Have A Valentine?

Or A Special Friend?

Roses are red, violets are blue. I like your tat and your piercings too.

$3 for 3 Lines

Let them know you care in our special Valentine's issue Feb. 14.

For more information call The Print @
(503) 657-6958 x 2578

Or drop by B104

Writers' Club Contest

Deadline: Friday, March 2

You may submit up to 3 poems, 1 essay, 1 piece of fiction, and 1 one-act play. Submit 4 copies of each entry. Include 1 cover page for each set of entries.

On each entry, include the title and your social security number. The cover page for each entry should include the title and category, your name, social security number, address, and phone number. Include an IBM-compatible 3.5" disk with your work on it.

All entries will be considered for the literary magazine Synesthesia. Return entries to Allen Widerburg, S124, ext. 2359.