

Driver's Ed gets new wheels

Sorensen
Clackamas Print

Community Education
ent has something to out now that sixteen ew cars have showed up Clairmont Hall on cam-

Holmes, the driver edu-coordinator since 1990, ed the brand new 2005
Malibus for her instrucut down the list of my [and] our purchasing ent puts them up for bid," lmes. She went on to that they posted their ents on the internet and ed in a local newspaper y were looking for new e nice thing is you usu-a good deal because com-re competing."

choice for the new cars re an easy process, either.

re actually governed by Statute," said Holmes. "It actly how you have to a Driver's Ed program."

ew cars will be managed tained by Ric Jenkerson, us motor pool coordinaork] on the ones we have bably five-to-ten hours a days Jenkerson.

try and reflect the kinds students are driving.
e surprised how many are driving 2000 and ars," said Holmes. "We'll ting them with additional structor brake, first aid ergency reflectors ...
retty much your basic the modifications are

Jeff Sorensen Clackamas Print

The driver's education program now has 16 brand new 2005 Chevy Malibus. The decision to get new cars was spurred by the number of students driving new models.

finished, however, Jenkerson looks forward to focusing on his many other duties for a while.

"On these, hopefully, we won't have to work on [them] anytime soon," said Jenkerson. "We've had to replace transmissions, dead batteries, and we have collisions, of course."

The Driver's Ed program, according to Holmes, has a really good record when it comes to collisions.

"In the entire history of Driver's Ed, only one was our fault," said Holmes.

But Jenkerson knows that, like all cars, they'll probably need to be kept up and maintained over the coming years.

"Usually about 36,000 miles or three years everything goes to hell," he laughed, "whichever comes first."

"We get a new batch every four to five years," said Holmes. "We are entirely self sustaining. Driver's Ed does not cost the college a penny. Each year we save money ... when the time comes, we buy the cars."

"We'll be selling the Hyundais [we have now], so keep an eye out," Holmes said as an afterthought. "If someone is looking for a new car, these - some of these - have low miles."

Anyone interested in enrolling or looking for more information on the Driver's Ed program is welcome to contact Kim Holmes at ext. 3412.

to group shares new lab space with high school

Pizzisi
Clackamas Print

automotive group has a 3,000-square-foot lab with four new car lifts, with all new things there is a catch. In this partice the lab space is dedie high school students. those who are in the ive courses or thinking ng, this works for their

It got Clackamas a new instructor (John Bohach) who teaches two sessions daily. It also allows the automotive group the use of the new lab space after all the high school students clear out, at 12:45 p.m.

Students and teachers both agree that the lab space was very much needed. The automotive program has been growing in the number of students each term, but until now has used the same space. The automotive program has had to expand to night classes as well as weekend classes just to accommodate the growing number of students in the classes. Some of the classes are still crowded.

For those who are interested in taking some automotive classes, there are many to choose from in the program, and not all of them directly relate to mechanics.

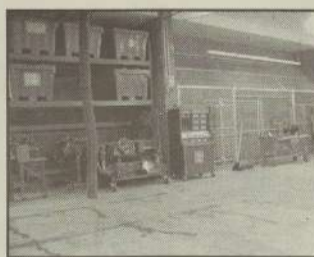

There are classes on engine work, body work, metal forming, custom work, but in addition there are also classes on painting, hot-rodding, airbrush art, and pin-striping to name a few, which are not offered in the art department, but tend to be more artistically minded. This class shows the art aspect of the airbrush rather than just how it could be used in the automotive field.

The program invites those who have an interest in cars, just want to learn how to do the basic work needed on a car, or even have no interest in cars but have an interest in the artistic side. Class registration opened yesterday, so sign up now.

Ferguson Clackamas Print

SCHOLARSHIPS: Secret of free money ed from Page 1

3,400 to anyone who is a g student with 45 or redit hours and a 3.0

e is a journalism scholarffered by the English ent for high school sen-olved in journalistic
s. To apply, applicants clude examples of their stic work. The scholar-or one full year of full or more credits) tuition.
e information on avail-olarships can be found on the college's website at <http://depts.clackamas.edu/fs/fal> lscholar.asp. In addition, application information is available at <http://depts.clackamas.edu/fs/ap> ply.asp.

Students have to fill out only one application and are immediately considered for all scholarships offered. However, students should remember that different scholarships sometimes have different requirements

Clackamas offers two open enrollment periods for scholarships. The first period begins in January and carries through mid-March. Scholarship Coordinator Chippi Bello recommends students interested in scholarships offered at Clackamas apply then, because there are more scholarships offered and students do not have to reapply at the new term, and are automatically continued for other scholarships.

Applications can be picked up in Roger Rook Hall and all questions regarding the scholarships can be directed to Bello, scholarship coordinator. She can be reached at (503) 657-6958, ext. 2373.

In addition to the following officers, 18 new members were inducted to Phi Theta Kappa on Nov. 4 in the Gregory Forum.

- President: Becky Trieschmann
- Vice President: Melissa McPartland
- Vice President of Scholarship: Valerie Percival
- Vice President of Service: Chris Hammond
- Vice President of Fellowship: Jennifer Richards
- Vice President of Membership: Joey Barber
- Fundraiser Coordinator: Kelly Walrath
- Secretary: Jeri Fuller
- Treasurer: Amanda Luond

campus SAFETY logs

All reports are taken from CCC's campus safety incident logs.
Summaries are edited for clarity, not content.

11-09-04

10:45 a.m.

Staff reported Asian female adult soliciting money from passersby in mall area.

11:17 a.m.

Contacted three white male juveniles. Minor in possession of tobacco.

11:19 a.m.

Student reported hit and run in Clairmont lot.

12:28 p.m.

Contact white female juvenile. Minor in possession of tobacco.

11-08-04

6:58 p.m.

Received call of three students in a confrontation.

7:03 p.m.

Arrived on scene and took statements from student and staff involved in disturbance call.

11-04-04

9:40 a.m.

Student reported possible suspect info related to vehicle break-in in Barlow lot.

11:20 a.m.

Staff reported student losing consciousness at Clairmont building. 911 was called.

11:50 a.m.

Contacted by student who hit a parked vehicle.

1:25 p.m.

Contacted by parent regarding runaway info.

11-03-04

9:10 a.m.

Student reported vehicle break-in in Barlow lot.

1:48 p.m.

Staff reported non-injury crash along Killdeer Rd. N.