

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

Chrysalis, a women writers' group, meets every Wednesday from noon to 2 p.m. in Roger Rook's Literary Arts Center (RR 220). Local author Pat Lichen guides writers of all levels through discussions of their work. For more info, call ext. 2220.

CCC Writers' Club meets Fridays, from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Literary Arts Center.

The Haggart Observatory, the only public observatory in western Oregon, is open for public viewing on clear Saturday nights. The observatory opens at dusk, and viewing begins at dark and continues for about three hours. A $3 donation is requested. For more information, visit the Haggart Observatory web site at <http://depts.clackamas.edu/haggart> or call 503-657-6958, ext. 5665. The observatory is located at the John Inskip Environmental Learning Center at CCC.

The 2005 Clackamas Literary Review (CLR) is now available. Copies are available at area booksellers including Borders and Powell's, as well as the CCC Bookstore. The Web site, www.clackamasliteraryreview.org is expected to be online by May 1. For more information, call Kate Gray at 503-657-6958, ext. 2371.

The Art of Composting. CCC's Horticulture Department and Metro are offering free composting workshops. The workshops are scheduled for Saturdays May 14 and June 4, from 9-11 a.m. All three workshops take place at the Home Composting Demonstration site, south of Clairmont Hall.

James Davis will be teaching a class covering the basics of bird identification in the Environmental Learning Center's Lakeside Hall. The class begins tonight, and goes from 7:30 to 9 p.m. There is an $8 fee.

CCC's High Five team, made up of Phi Theta Kappa and ASG members, challenged PCC in a Jeopardy like game show challenge. Game will air on Sunday, June 26, at 6:30 a.m. on KOIN-TV and will air again on Tuesday, June 28 on Comcast channel 14.

Dr. Quack is curious; were you aware?

George Ellery Hale was an important builder of telescopes in the 20th Century. In 1897, Hale built a 40-inch wide telescope, the largest ever built at that time. His second telescope, with a 60-inch lens, was set up in 1917 and took 14 years to build. During the 14 years, Hale became convinced that he suffered from a disorder in which the excessive ambitions of the individual drive them insane. During the building of his 100-inch lens Hale spent time in a sanatorium and would only discuss his plans for the telescope "with a sympathetic green elf."
