Meaghan Durand (3) dribbles her way out of trouble during a recent match. The Cougars are gearing up for their last two home games and hope to parlay their season success in to the NWAACC Championships. The Cougars play their last two home games on Oct. 14 against Clark and Oct. 18 against Lane CC, at the Oregon City High Pioneer Stadium.

Savannah Walruff keeps the pace during a recent race. This weekend, the Cougar runners will participate in the Mike Hodges Invitational. The Hodges Invite is the only time this season the Cougars will run at home. Contact the Clackamas Sports Department for men's and women's start times. The Cougars will run in the Southern Region Championships on Oct. 28 and the NWAACC Championships on Nov. 11.

In a unique art show, Thomas O'Day blows up old artwork to alter it into fragments he uses to create new art. O'Day is a Spokane artist and has labeled the style "Art Disposals." O'Day's show was held in front of the Niemeyer building on Oct. 5. His work can be found in the Alexander Gallery on campus.
