Over the weekend the track team participated in the Willamette Mini Meet at Willamette University in Salem.

"It was a low-key meet," Coach Keoni McHone said. "We just loaded up the teams to see the athletes' strengths."

The men's team had good performances from Quint Baxter, Chris Dilly, Kenjamine Jackson and Mike Simmons.

Coming off a hamstring injury, Kenjamine Jackson took first place in the men's 100 meter dash with a time of 10:91. Dilly and Baxter threw very well, with Dilly taking first place with a throw of 52.77 and Baxter taking second with a throw of 50.14 meters. McHone has moved Dilly, who achieved a 12-foot personal record, to the sixth spot on the top 10 all-time list.

"Chris and Quint have two different throwing styles," McHone said. "Dilly is my speedster, and Baxter is my strength thrower."

Mike Simmons had a big day with the javolin, taking first place with a throw of 62.38 meters.

"Mike is consistent around 210 feet," McHone said. "He is ready to pop a big one any time."

For the girls, there were strong performances from Rachel Hemphill, Jeeni Schantin and Andria Scheese.

"The biggest thing I have liked so far out of the women is that they are willing to step it for the benefit of the team," McHone said.

Hemphill zoomed, taking second place in the 100 meter dash with 12:68.

"She was a big surprise," McHone said. "We knew she was quick, but we didn't expect her to make the top 10 in the 100 meter."

Scheese posted a big day, taking second in the 1500 meter run and achieving an eight second personal record. Scheese has been suffering from a hip flexor, but it has not slowed her competing.

"I told her not to go so hard," McHone said, "but she is a pretty harsh competitor."

Jeeni Schantin had a big throw this weekend in javolin, taking first place and besting her personal record by about five feet.

"She is ready for a big one," McHone said.

The team now looks forward to their next challenge this Friday at the Warner Pacific Mini Meet at the Oregon City High School Stadium.
