

Look at sports from 1968-2008

Track and field jumps for the heavens at Saints Open

Contributed by Keoni McHone

UPCOMING TRACK MEETS

- March 14 Mt. Hood Multi-event
Mt. Hood CC
- March 15 Linfield Invite
Linfield College
- March 22 Hornet Invite
Sacramento State
University
- April 4-5 Willamette Invitational
Willamette University
- April 12 Lewis and Clark Invite
Lewis and Clark
College

ABOVE: Clackamas hurdler Alura Little, right, clears the last hurdle in the 100-meter-high hurdles at the Saints Open at Mt. Hood Community College. The next meet for Clackamas is at Mt. Hood Community College in the Mt. Hood Multi-event.

Softball faces dignified defeat in first game of the season

Photos by Megan Koler Clackamas Print

Megan Koler

Editor in Chief

Clackamas softball started out its preseason with a loss against its four-year competitors.

"This is a very young team," said Head Softball Coach Jessica Farnsworth. "We were facing a very good four-year pitcher."

Concordia scored two runs, while Clackamas was unable to answer back with any hits of their own and lost 0-2.

"Our defense was tight, but with offense, we struggled" said freshman Kayla Vedaa.

The team's standings are now 0-1 in season play.

This afternoon, the Cougars will face off against Linfield's junior varsity team in a home game at 2 p.m.

Next Saturday and Sunday, they will be playing away games. On Saturday, they will be in Eugene playing Northwest Christian College at noon. Sunday, they will be in Ashland playing Southern Oregon University's team at noon as well.

TOP: Freshman Susan Winningham from Crater High School bats against Concordia University's star pitcher at last Wednesday's home game.

LEFT: Freshman Ashley Bjork in mid-pitch against a Concordia hitter. Concordia's team scored two runs. RIGHT: Bjork returns to first base after attempting to steal second.