horoscopes for the week

By Swami J. Falstaff

Aries (March 21-April 19): Do you find yourself bored several times a day? Are you ever near a computer that just happens to have a webcam? Become familiar with a site called "ChatRoulette."

Leo (July 23-August 22): You may look like a fierce lion on the outside, but I know just as well as you do that on the inside, you're just a big, fluffy kitten. Drop the charade and offer a free hug!

Sagittarius (November 22 - December 21): Call an old friend you haven't spoken to in a while. They may be in need of you right now, but just too afraid to call you themselves.

Capricorn (December 22-January 19): I foresee that this week will bring some big changes to your life. Embrace them, whatever they may be. Sometimes though the immediate impact might be unwanted, the eventual picture can be amazing.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): Since "April Showers" were not in abundance this year, expect May to not be so flowery. And I'm not talking about the scenery.

Virgo (August 23-September 22): I want to offer you a dare: the next time you see a Free-hugger, don't just walk away. Hug them. It might be the best moment of your life.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): Your long lost twin is looking for you. If you wish to find them, go on MySpace, or Facebook, whichever one happens to be hip at the time.

Libra (September 23-October 22): So you're sick a lot? Drink more juice instead of coffee and discover a thing called vitamin C. It's good for you, I hear.

Cancer (June 21-July 22): Your real friends are calling you. Get off the computer and pick up the phone. Or at the very least, go "AFK" for a couple minutes to give them some stupid, obviously fake excuse.

Scorpio (October 23-November 21): It's time, once and for all, to make amends. Go to your local pharmacy, buy a bottle of vitamin C tablets and offer them to a Libra you know. This, my friend, is the start of a beautiful friendship.

Aquarius (January 20-February 18): You know that feeling you get when you look into someone's eyes and you just know that you're completely safe? Let yourself feel that again.

Pisces (February 19-March 20): While the sun is out, take a trip down to the Coast this weekend. Oh, and if the ground starts moving when it's not supposed to, don't be afraid: it's just the ocean saying "hi!"

The college has developed a survey that will allow for measurement of "total miles traveled by faculty, staff and students" during commuting to and from the college. Results from this survey will be used to help determine funding opportunities for public transportation options and to help calculate the college's greenhouse gas emissions. Student participation is very important.

The student version of the survey will be released on Monday, May 3 online at the MyClackamas portal, and participants will be able to take the survey anytime throughout the week of May 3 through 7. The survey will only take a couple minutes to complete.
