

Connect with your zodiac brethren; what famous person is channeled through your sign?

Aries (March 21 – April 19): You know what? When I grow up I want to be like you. Bust down doors, make jokes, spin Hollywood around my possibly broken finger (since like you, I'd do all my own stunts) and have a animated TV show where my uncle yells at me constantly and my annoying niece always ends up in trouble ... Actually, how about you just keep doing what you do. Thanks.

Taurus (April 20 – May 20): I bet you are sitting there trying to analyze what kind of cat I am and what made me become the Mystic Cat I am today ... and then when you've written me off to being stuck in my "phallic stage," you'll move on to the human subjects that surround you. I've got some words for you, buddy-pal; cats gotta pee, too.

Gemini (May 21 – June 20): I'm not sure which side of you will be reading my words today – the one which has exquisite taste in art or the side which has a voice that chills even a cat to the bone as you cackle at the beginning of "Thriller." It really doesn't matter, keep up the good work.

Cancer (June 21 – July 22): I think you should start putting money in your cat bed or something. Actually, while you're at it, you might want to tone down all those crazy boasts. Otherwise people will think you're mad and die with no money like my uncle's second-cousin's husband's once-removed's third stepfather (also known as your Cancer-Brother) Nikola Tesla.

Leo (July 23 – August 22): CATS RULE! Now that that's out of the way, it's no wonder that such a shazzy dresser such as yourself have the blood of a fashion designer flowing through your lion veins. I was sort of hoping that you'd take a look at my hat ... and make me so Coco this week.

Virgo (August 23 – September 22): I just want you to know that what you do is sick. Just plain wrong. Put the bell down and give me my food, Pavvy. I'm not a dog.

Libra (September 23 – October 22): I'm starting to suspect you're not really sick. In fact, I bet you've been "slaving" away in your lab creating your fuzzy minions called "Muppets" that will not only plague the silver screen, but they will also serve you well during the surprise attack on the Scorpio.

Scorpio (October 23 – November 21): I know behind all that dark, secretive brooding lies a great business tycoon who will develop these strange new programs like DOS and Windows ... Ooooooh, wait, that already happened. Um, so hey, did you actually give Libra an orange last week?

Sagittarius (November 22 – December 21): Oh sure, you can sing good and tons of people sing your songs every day, but I'm sooooo over you and your "Ol' Blue Eyes." Although ... a pack of rats does sound tasty ...

Capricorn (December 22 – January 19): When you see that rare $100 bill, possibly in your friend's grubby little hand, do you see someone familiar? In a way that's another Sea-Goat staring back at you. I just wanted to thank you for helping me line my "Kitty Box" this week.

Aquarius (January 20 – February 18): I'm not going to claim you're anything but crazy. Chill out, your Mothership will land in time so you don't have to make up wild stories of little girls growing and shrinking with their annoying eating disorders. Most importantly, we cats do not appreciate being dragged in to be guides. We just want to nap.

Pisces (February 19 – March 20): You may look scrumptious, swimming "innocently" in your little bowl ... but I know deep down you're waiting for some poor cat to dip his hand in the water and then it's "Red fish, blue fish, this fish eats cats who fish."
