Join The Clackamas Print for the experience of a lifetime. With The Print, your articles and photos will be made available to the college community in our weekly paper and the digital world at large via our website.

“

I like being on The Print because it gives me a perspective that people who just read the paper weekly don't get to see. The process is the most interesting thing for me, and the people here are really nice.”

-Shauna Salopek

“

The Print has prepared me for a life in the business world. I can see a lot of potential for the lessons I have learned from being a team leader with the paper.”

-Joshua Baird

The Facts:

If you need 1-4 more credits and have an interest in publishing, editing or creating media content, then the paper is for you.

Editors receive a full or partial tuition waiver for each term they work for the paper.

J-215 creates content for the paper and J-226 lays out the pages.

An award-winning college paper, The Clackamas Print has existed since 1966. You, too, may win an award for your work.
