With all of the pizzerias near Clackamas Community College's Oregon City campus, one that everybody should for sure go to at least once is Jimmy O's Pizzeria. It has open seating and is very inviting and comfy.

My guest and I walked into the pizzeria, and it smelled just like heaven. We were quickly greeted by the cashier and she pointed us to the favorite pizza among customers, the Jimmy O's Special. It's made with fresh dough, onions, olives, mushrooms and green peppers topped with fresh tomatoes and made with their own pizza sauce.

While we waited, we ordered an entree. If there's an entree that you should try it should definitely be their mozzarella sticks with their fresh, homemade pizza sauce. When you crack one of these mozzarella sticks open the cheese seems endless, and when dipped into the homemade sauce they are amazing! The sticks cost $5.20 per order.

When our pizza finally arrived it was still giving off steam and the first bite was like nothing I've ever experienced. All of the fresh ingredients together were most definitely worth the wait.

The small-sized pizza cost $15.40 but could easily satisfy at least four people; the toppings alone were 2 inches high.

Jimmy O's is definitely one of the pizzeria places that should be tried while in Oregon City. Although it is a little pricy, it's very much worth it!

Bellagios Pizza

 19735 Oregon 213, Oregon City
 503-518-5000

When I first entered Bellagios Pizza and saw that their motto was "The Very Best," I have to admit I was a bit skeptical. However, if you're looking for a wide variety of delicious pizzas, calzones, desserts and salads, Bellagios may very well be "The Very Best."

Personally, I judge an Italian restaurant based off the freshness of ingredients and overall quality of their pizza. Being a girl who enjoys uncomplicated dishes, a cheese and pineapple pizza is my go-to choice every time, and with that said, I was delighted to find my toppings full of flavor over a thick, crispy crust. The quality of the pizza aside, Bellagios' service and friendly, relaxing atmosphere moves this restaurant to the top of my list.

While the price for a small pizza at Bellagios may be as much as a large pizza elsewhere, the quality of each pizza more than makes up for it. Another great concept that Bellagios offers is a discount on a second pizza of the same size or value.

While there are many pizza places located in the hub of Oregon City, Bellagios is conveniently located across from campus in the Haggren Food & Pharmacy parking lot. Although I was skeptical at first, I have to say that next time I'm ordering pizza it will be from Bellagios Pizza.

Dear Readers,

On behalf of The Clackamas Print, we would love to welcome you to the first issue of "The Good Grub." This insert is designed to give you a fantastic list of local area restaurants in one place, complete with reviews by all of our writers.

The best thing about "The Good Grub," is that you can take it out of the current issue of the newspaper and keep it for as long as you live in the area. Though there were a number of other great restaurants that students would love to see, we are restricted by space as to what we could cover in this issue. If you have a restaurant you have always wondered about, but were possibly too nervous to try without hearing about it first, feel free to email your suggestions to chiefed@clackamas.edu.

-The staff of The Clackamas Print

Special thanks to: Nathan Sturgess, Brian Baldwin, Ann Axelson, Brad Hieneke and Joshua Baird for organizing and designing the issue, and to The Print staff for writing and photography.
