

Sculptures featured on campus bring creativity to the next level

Felicia Sriver The Clackamas Print

Felicia Sriver The Clackamas Print

Felicia Sriver The Clackamas Print

Felicia Sriver The Clackamas Print

Brad Heinke The Clackamas Print

Top left: "Hippo Campus" is a sculpture located outside of Niemeyer created by Ben Dye. It looks like a horse swimming out of the sea.
Bottom left: CCC art instructor Katy McFadden created this sculpture called "The Bather."
Top right: The artist of this sculpture, Greg Conyne, calls this work "Reflection on the 1%."
Right center: "Neurologies," along with two others like it, is located on the wall outside of McLoughlin. The artist of this sculpture is Mike Suri.
Bottom Right: CCC student Erin Irish takes a photo of the bronze "Luna" by Ellen Tykeson.