

"I'm so excited. I appreciate the freedom that it brings and I feel like it's, this is going to sound so cheesy, it's like a stepping stone in a pathway to my future."

– Jenna Orsini

"It's been pretty good, I have no complaints. I've answered a lot of questions I had on my mind, especially regarding financial aid, I got everything cleared up and I'm ready for my first day."

– Elle Petkovich

"This is my first year at any type of college and my mom was in the military, so she didn't have to deal with any of this either. It's kind of a learning experience for both of us."

– Elle Petkovich

"It was fun. I got to meet new people, learn things about the campus and the people that are going to be going here with me, even though I might not have classes with any of them."

– Alani Reck

Student Orientation

STUDENTS ATTEND THE CLACKAMAS
COMMUNITY COLLEGE OPEN HOUSE
ON THURSDAY SEPT. 14.

"[My experience has been] good. I was expecting something a little bit different because I went to a university back in my country, so it's been really good, everyone is so nice."

– Maria Montoya

"This is a really good community college. CCC is really involved with their students and they seem like they care a lot and they want to see people happy."

– Carlos Aguilera

"I loved being able to talk to the teachers. It will definitely make my first day a lot less nerve wrecking."

– Kayla Westman

"There's a lot of new faces. It's always great to get to know new people and I got to run into some old friends too."

– Austen Floyd
