Oregon Social Learning Center's Indian Family Wellness Project is a collaboration between CTSI and the learning center in Eugene, Ore. The project involves the development, implementation, and evaluation of a family-based culturally competent preventive intervention for families enrolled in the Siletz Tribal Head Start program.

The logo design should have a theme of family or community wellness. This logo will become the property of the IFW program and will be used for program letterhead and other uses IFW deems appropriate. Original art may be altered to fit graphic design needs.

Please limit your creation to one color of ink and submit it to Fish Martinez, Oregon Social Learning Center, Indian Family Wellness, 160 E. Fourth Ave., Eugene OR 97401. Due date for all entries is Oct. 31.

All Siletz tribal members and Head Start families are eligible to submit logo entries. The individual whose original art is selected will receive $100.

For further information or questions, please contact Fish Martinez at 541-485-2711, ext. 254.

Archbishop Visits Siletz

The Archbishop of Portland, the Most Rev. John Vlazny, honored our local Siletz Catholic Church by visiting the church and community in July. An archbishop hasn't visited our area in more than 30 years.

Tribal Chairman Delores Pigsley asked that our young women do the Lord's Prayer for this special occasion. Selene Rilatos, cultural programs coordinator, held Indian Sign Language classes with the young women and nine ladies signed the prayer.

The young women who attended were Little Miss Siletz, Jennifer Easter, Tasha Rilatos, Tiffany Stuart, Lynette Hibdon, Karli Rilatos, Darcy Jones, Sara Bell, and Ada and Amber Ball.

Thank you each for representing the tribe in such an honorable way. Blessings! Hum'Chi!
