Kitty Wells is known worldwide as "The Undisputed Queen of Country Music," a title bestowed upon her after her 1952 recording of "It Wasn't God Who Made Honky Tonk Angels" made her the first female to have a No. 1 record on the country music charts. Since then, she's had an amazing 23 No. 1 records.

Johnny Wright performed as half of the singing duo "Johnny and Jack," well-known all over the world from the '40s through the '60s for their hit recordings, including "Stop the World and Let Me Off," "Oh Baby Mine," "Don't Let the Stars Get in Your Eyes," "Ashes of Love," and many others.

Bobby Wright, son of Kitty Wells and Johnny Wright, is one of America's most versatile performers.

As a young adult, he was seen by millions as "Willie" on the highly rated series "McHale's Navy." His versions of "Seasons in the Sun," "Everybody Needs a Rainbow," and "Baby's Gone" were chart-making hits for ABC.

Johnny Counterfit, country comedian and singing impressionist, is well-known on the country music circuit for his voice and singing impressions of some of the most famous singers and actors of yesterday and today, along with voices of politicians past and present.

Johnny Russell is a singer/songwriter/comedian whose million-selling classics have been recorded by everyone from Dolly Parton to Burl Ives to The Beatles. Who can forget "Act Naturally," which was made famous by Buck Owens and later released by The Beatles on their "Help" album.
