"I told Dr. Brown to do whatever it would take to fix him up, and I would pay for it," said George.

Because he dutifully filed a report with the police, worried owners Fritz and Monika were able to locate Theo at the veterinary clinic the next morning.

"I was in tears and nearly hysterical," said Monika. "I'm so grateful for George and that young woman. It's nice to know that there are people like that in this world who care so much for injured animals."

Theo had been let out of the house by Fritz and was on his way to his job as No. 1 companion at the Sears Outlet Store in the Lighthouse Center.

"He's our best employee," Fritz said of the friendly canine that was rescued from the animal shelter three years ago. "He's always here before we open and we don't pay him a thing!"

Vet bills so far have reached $600, a small price to pay for a devoted and loyal member of the Hucke clan.

George, a Newport native, is the son of Rayna and Curtis Robertson.

The Siletz Tribe wishes you a joyful and prosperous new year.
