

The Chinook Winds whale moved in May with the assistance of casino staff members. No job is too big for this dedicated crew. They tackled the beast with a "can do" attitude and had it loaded onto a low-boy in short order. The whale was donated to the Oregon Coast Aquarium in Newport.

Sugar Ray Leonard and Roberto Duran

Commotion at the Ocean II Rocks

Boxing legends Sugar Ray Leonard and Roberto Duran helped Chinook Winds welcome boxing back to the casino in April. Their presence helped generate large crowds on the gaming floor and at the boxing matches.

Two championship title bouts took place before a crowd of approximately 1,700 people.

In the evening's main event, Lisa Holewyne and Marischa Sjauw hit the canvas for the WIBF J. Welterweight World Championship title. Holewyne's record was 12-7-1, with five KOs. Sjauw's record was 12-4-0 with three KOs.

Lisa Holewyne and Marischa Sjauw

The two women came out swinging, with no let up in the action for the entire 10 rounds. Holewyne won by decision.

Ron Weaver, 27, of New Orleans, La., battled Byron Mackie of Toronto, Canada, for the IBA Intercontinental Jr. Middleweight Championship. Weaver, with a record of 26-6-0 and two KOs, overpowered Mackie. The referee stopped the match in the sixth round.
