embrace positive emotions. Distance yourself from problems. Avoid the me/I, instead look to others. So long as sentient beings remain, so long as I remain, I will remain to serve. Our existence is reality; all sentient beings want happiness. Our existence should not be causing harm on others. Our existence should be causing good on others. On being the chosen one – we all have the same potential for good and bad. I try my best to be something useful to others. Some may agree.

If you feel some interest (in what the Dali Lama had said), analyze more, experiment by yourself and then analyze more.

Peace to you and peace for the planet.
