Vol. 30, No. 2, February 2002

Brenda Bremner presents Mona Fisher with a Pendleton blanket as Mona accepts her Employee of the Year honors.

Fisher Named Employee of the Year

Mona Fisher was selected as the Employee of the Year for 2001 at the Siletz Tribe's annual employee holiday party in December.

Bev Youngman nominated Mona for this award. Her nomination read, in part, "Beginning as a Programs clerk, Mona gradually took on greater duties, which is not to say she can be taken advantage of. She is simply one of those rare individuals that will do anything and everything to help other people, both in her job and private life. Literally, for Mona, no job is too small or too large for her to undertake ... With her demonstrated strong work ethic and caring and sharing attitude, both the tribe, co-workers, and the community benefit from this extraordinary person."

Other individuals receiving incentive awards include:

Employee of the Quarter: Judy Muschamp

Superior Accomplishments: Laura Bremner, Kristi Martin-Bayya, Programs 2 Staff – Rusty Butler, Ramona Fisher, Robert Kentta, Sonya Moody-Jurado, Selene Rilatos, Nick Sixkiller, Craig Whitehead, Amiee Williams, George Nagel, and Tami Miner

Outstanding Service: Sara Bell, Caroline Easter

See page 5 for a list of individuals who received recognition at the holiday party for their years of service.

PSU Offers "American Indian Accomplishments"

Tired of hearing statistics on Indian poverty, alcoholism, and disabilities? Then take a class at Portland State University called "American Indian Accomplishments." Discussion will focus on accomplishments, victories, and charismatic leaders in Indian country – including a section on Oregon's best.

Instructor Sonciray Bonnell is an enrolled member of Sandia Pueblo and also is Isleta and Salinan. She holds a master's degree from Dartmouth.
