

TRIBAL MEMBER NEWS

Chester Butler – 1920-2002

Chester Butler was born Jan. 3, 1920, and died Sept. 18, 2002.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Polly Case Butler; parents Jane Hollis and Bruce Butler Sr.; brothers Alton Butler, Everett Butler, and Bruce Butler Jr.; and sisters MaryAnn Butler-Brown and Victoria Butler-Ben.

Chester is survived by sons Darelle (Dino) and Robert Butler; grandchildren Mindy Sullivan, Betty Curl, Elizabeth Sohappy, Luhui Whitebear, Robert Redner-Butler, Molo Whitebear, James Butler, Che Butler, Darelle Buddha Butler Jr., Quitze Pillings, Honey-Rose Butler, and Precious Butler; great-grandchildren Daniel Raymond Jr., Desteny Rose, Devin Michael, and Derek James Sullivan, Jamie Elijah White, Niko Alan Whitebear, and Chastity Lee White; his best friend, Ogie the Dog; and numerous nieces and nephews.

A wake was held on Sept. 21, 2002, at the Siletz Tribal Dance House. Services included an honor song by the Dancing Again Singers, the Lord's Prayer by Honey Rose Butler, songs by Trish Daniel, Minister Charles Bush, eulogy by Edmond Ben and nephew, and community memories on Sept. 22 at the Siletz Tribal Community Center. Burial was at the Paul Washington Cemetery in Siletz, Ore.

Chet and Polly
Butler

In Loving Memory

Once the mightiest stood in and around the valleys of these hills, the essence of the ocean is scented upon the winds. Man has the ability to give all that he's got when encountering the task of life; no one said it was to be easy. Never grovel or expect another to grovel before you. Toe the mark, and take it as it comes. Love is not verbal, it can only be shown in the caring, like the love of eagles or wolves. They mate for life. If one menalooses (changes worlds) then the mate stays in solitude, to meet the one they vowed their love to in the changing of worlds where love lives on. Some of the human beings hold true to these very traits.

-Robert Butler-

Tribal Member News Wanted

Siletz News is looking for information about tribal members similar to the articles you see on this page. We're looking for positive news about you, someone in your family, or someone you know, including details on births, graduations, service in the Armed Forces, weddings, engagements, and deaths.

Give us a few details and we'll write the story. Or if something has been written about you, send us a copy and we'll get permission to print it in Siletz News. Send us photos and we'll be sure to get them back to you.

Richard L. Hostler – 1933-2002

Richard L. Hostler, 69, of Siletz, Ore., died Sept. 26, 2002, in Corvallis, Ore.

He was born May 10, 1933, in Siletz, Ore., to Mary Estelle (Fairchild) and Leslie James Wallace. He resided in Crescent City, Calif., during the early 1960s, and lived in Salem during the late 1960s and early 1970s before returning to Siletz.

He was a member of the Confederated Tribes of Siletz Indians of Oregon. He enjoyed boxing, garage sales, watching TV, and spending time with family and friends.

Richard Hostler and Kitti Hostler

Survivors include a daughter, Kitti Hostler of Siletz; a sister, Vera Lafferty of Siletz; and a brother, Albert Wallace of McMinnville, Ore.; granddaughters, Natasha Kavanaugh and Shantel Hostler; a grandson, Elton Hostler; a niece, Violet Lafferty-Moore; great-nieces, Heather Moore and Kim Olson; and great-nephews, Richard Lafferty, Robert Moore, and Leslie Wallace.

At his request, no funeral services were held. Disposition was by cremation.

Old Lane Photo Found

Hello, my name is Yvonne Lane. My husband, Daniel Lane, and I and our four children reside in Vancouver, Wash.

I was just going through some old photos and found this one that Daniel's mother, Patricia Lane, gave us. I only know the name of one person in the photo, which is Maude Lane, Daniel's great-grandmother. The late Clayton Frank Lane was her grandson.

I thought someone might be interested in seeing the photo. The date and location written on the back is May 30, 1936, Independence, Ore.

