UO, Tribes Will Boost Native American Education

The U.S. Department of Education's Office of Indian Education has awarded $1.06 million to a consortium of nine Pacific Northwest tribes and the University of Oregon College of Education.

Funded through the Indian Professional Development Program, the three-year grant to the Sapsik'wa_á (Teacher) Program will support the education, recruitment, training, and mentoring of American Indian teachers serving American Indian communities.

The Confederated Tribes - Coos, Coquille, Grand Ronde, Klamath, Siletz, Siuslaw, Umatilla, Umpqua, and Warm Springs - and the UO College of Education identified a need for more American Indian teachers whose professional development and cultural sensitivities will make needed long-term improvements to the education of American Indian youth.

The UO Teacher Education Program will work with the university's coordinator for Native American enrollment services, the Office of Multicultural Affairs, and the tribes to recruit and counsel potential applicants.

An advisory council of tribal representatives, local community and school partners, and UO faculty will oversee grant activities. Members of these groups will gather this winter at an inaugural event to share work plans and honor their shared vision for improving the education of American Indian youth.

The Sapsik'wa_á Program is a component of the UO Native American Initiative, which aims to make UO a regional and national center for American Indian education and research.

Chinook Winds Salutes Veterans With Free Show

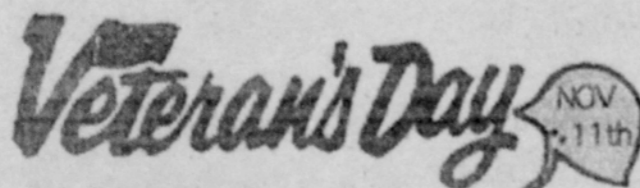

Stars and Stripes Forever, a free concert honoring veterans of the United States Armed Forces, will be held at Chinook Winds Casino on Veteran's Day, Nov. 11.

Free cake will be available in the lobby prior to the show from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. Showroom doors open at 6 p.m. for the concert, which will begin at 6:30 p.m. and end at 7:45 p.m.

The Siletz Tribal Honor Guard will open the show with the presentation of the colors, followed by entertainment provided by the Lincoln Pops Band (a 16-piece big band), vocalists Mike Bartle, Bill Montague, and Jakki Ford, and the banjo stylings of Will Kiefe. The production will close with a pipe and drum salute to the fallen soldiers.

The show is open to all ages. Tickets are not required; first come, first seated.

Remember our veterans on Nov. 11!

*I was that which others
did not want to be.
I went where others feared to go,
and did what others failed to do.
I asked nothing from those who gave nothing and reluctantly accepted the thought of eternal loneliness ... should I fail.
I have seen the face of terror;
felt the stinging cold of fear and enjoyed the sweet taste
of a moments love.
I have cried, pained, and hoped ...
but most of all, I have lived times
others would say are best forgotten.
At least someday
I will be able to say that I was proud of what I was ...
A Soldier.*
