

RESTORATION CELEBRATION

Gladys Bolton turns her whip woman duties over to Shirley Ben Walker prior to the Restoration Pow-Wow.

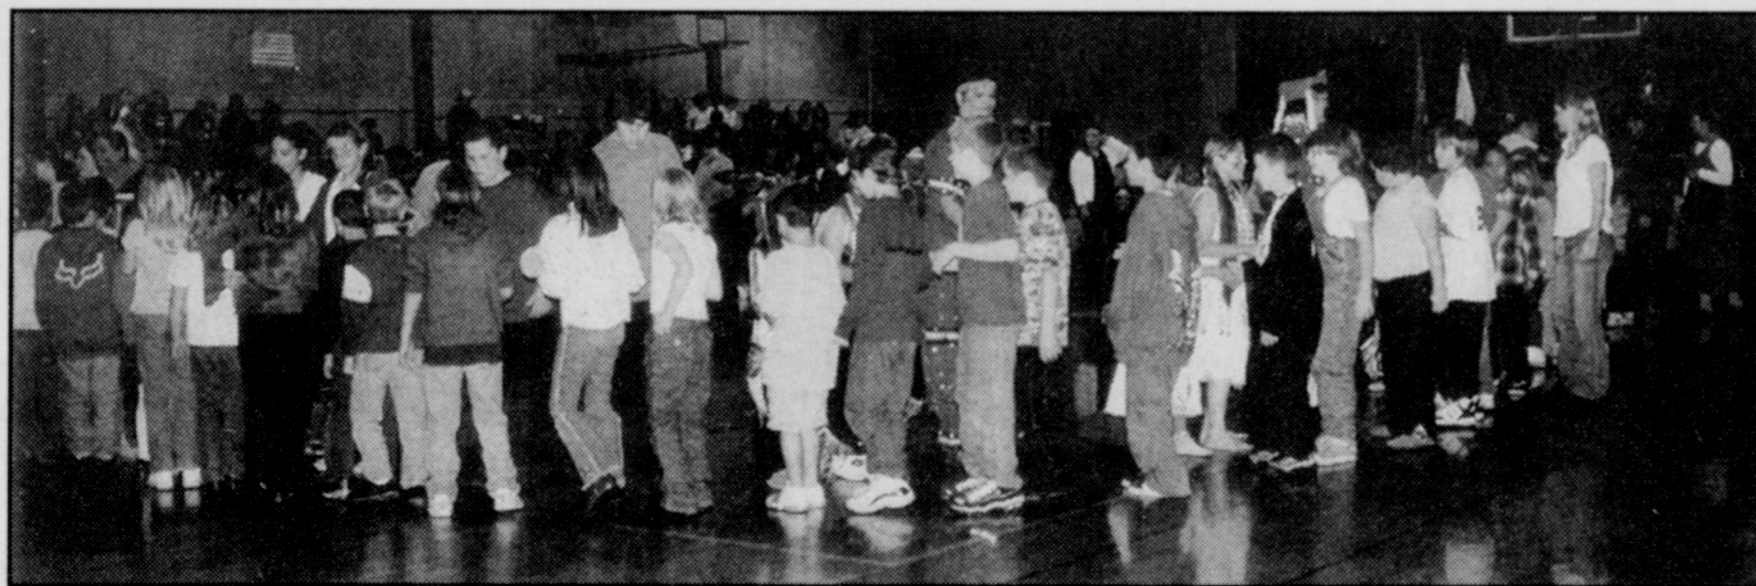

Evan Tye Moody Jurado has his coming out ceremony and honor dance. He's joined by his mom, Rosalie Jurado, great-grandmothers Cynthia Washington Lozano and Betty Whitehead, uncle Saul Jurado, and other family members.

Above: Delores Pigsley and Rosemary Landis wrap former Gov. Vic Atiyeh in a new treaty blanket as a thank you for participating in the Restoration Celebration.

Right: Bud Lane weaves a basket in the Culture Room, which included displays on Siletz Tribal history and traditional arts.

Students participate in a friendship dance as Siletz Valley School continues the tradition of the mini pow-wow, held Nov. 14. Students from Toledo and Newport middle schools joined the celebration.

Keith Taylor and William Depoe Jr. lead the Grand Entry, followed by flag-bearers Don Hudson, Ron Hudson, and Don Pigsley.
