S.T.A.N. Offers Basic Computer Classes

Do your children or grandchildren know more about using a computer than you do?

If the answer to this question is "yes," then you should think about registering for the free computer classes being offered by the Siletz Tribal Action Network (S.T.A.N.).

These days, computers are used in every type of business and impact the daily lives of most people. If you have a computer that is gathering dust because you don't know how to operate it, take this opportunity to improve your skills and learn more about computers.

Whether you want to learn to use a computer on a regular basis or are just curious about how it works, you will get the information you need in the S.T.A.N. Basic Computer classes. Those attending the workshops can ask questions and will receive individual training and assistance.

All S.T.A.N. workshop classes are held in the S.T.A.N. Training Center, located in the Siletz Tribal Business Corporation office at 2120 NW 44th St., Suite D in Lincoln City, Ore.

Classes begin at 6:30 p.m. Space is limited and pre-registration is required.

S.T.A.N. workshops are open to Siletz Tribal members, non-tribal spouses, and their adult children. There is no charge for participation.

In addition, six computers currently are available for Siletz Tribal members to use in the S.T.A.N. Training Center. You can use them during regular business hours (8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday). Someone always is available to answer your questions and help you if needed.

For more information or to register for S.T.A.N. classes, call Rosie Sufficool, business information counselor and S.T.A.N. coordinator, at 541-994-2142 or 1-877-564-7298 (toll-free).

Don't miss this opportunity to improve your skills and become the "best you can be!"
