Run to the Rogue

Proud participants in Run to the Rogue XII included family members and friends, as well as "man's best friend." (Clockwise from top left) Tribal elder William "Chewescla" Depoe and his faithful companion lead the way as the run nears Bandon. Siletz Valley Schools Principal Harvey Whitford and students take some time off from Thursday's classes to start the run down Government Hill. Stan Werth carries the Eagle Staff as he leads a group of dedicated runners down the line. At Oak Flats, Raymond Ben beats the hand drum to commemorate the successful completion of Run to The Rogue XII, as he is joined by his father, Ed Ben (behind drum), Shirley Ben Walker (behind Eagle Staff) and Tribal Council member Robert Kentta (holding staff). Christian Ramirez, son of Angela Ramirez, carries the Eagle Staff with pride-as he takes his turn leading the Run beneath the Oregon sun. Photos by Ann Goddard and George Nagel.
