Four Chosen for Traditional Arts Program

The Oregon Historical Society has announced the recipients of its 2007 Traditional Arts Apprenticeship Program.

This program is the only one of its kind in Oregon specifically established to encourage the preservation of traditional arts by pairing master artists with apprentices from the same cultural backgrounds. As a way of supporting tribal language programs, for the second year all master artists are also fluent speakers of their indigenous languages.

This year four groups of masters and apprentices from two of Oregon's tribal communities will work together through November. From the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs, Sahaptin speaker Adeline Miller will train Merle Kirk in storytelling, Sahaptin speaker Suzie Stockish will teach Roberta Kirk Waashat songs, and Chinook Wasco speaker Viola L. Kalama will instruct Brigitte M. Whipple in making willow baskets. In the final apprenticeship, Patricia Whereat-Phillips of the Confederated Tribes of Coos, Lower Umpqua, and Siuslaw Indians will work with John Cauthorn and other tribal members on stories in the Siuslaw language.

For more information about this program and the master artists, contact Folklife Director Nancy J. Nusz at 503-306-5291 or nancyn@ohs.org.
