Veterans Honored with Free Concert Honor Guard with Drums and Great Artists to Perform

On Nov. 12, a free concert in tribute to America's veterans will be held at 7 p.m. in the Chinook Winds Showroom. This show is open to all ages and requires no ticket. Seats are available on a first-come, first-served basis.

Cake, ice cream and refreshments will be served in the lobby of the casino starting at 4 p.m. After the free concert, guests will have a chance to win a trip for two to Washington, D.C., to visit the war memorials.

Chinook Winds wants to say "thank you" to America's veterans, their families and their loved ones with a complimentary concert. Local radio personality Roger Robertson will emcee this patriotic event. Performances will include the All-American Orchestra featuring famed New Orleans trumpet master Bill Bachmann, former Marine Band member Bill Montague, and former American Air Force Band member Kevin Ohmart, all conducted by Keller Coker.

The Girls from Company-B (tribute to the Andrews Sisters) also will astound the crowd along with the Western Oregon University Brass Ensemble and Kell's Irish Pipes and Drums. All of these fine entertainers will perform tributes to every man and woman who has served in the United States Armed Forces.

The Siletz Tribal Honor Guard will bring in the colors with the Round Stone Singers native drum group. The Oregon Coast Veterans Association also will provide service flags for the event.

For more information on this free event, please call 1-888-CHINOOK or 541-996-5825.

Here's the Scoop from Chinook Winds Casino Resort and Golf Course

- The Chinook Winds Casino Resort Hotel Restaurant (newly named the Chinook Seafood Grill) will have a new menu beginning in November. Stop by and check it out!
- Many new games are evident on the casino gaming floor. Some are the first in Oregon.
- All "ticket-in ticket-out" machines soon will be situated on the lower floor of the casino. Games that only accept cash will be located on the second floor. This will cause less confusion for guests trying to determine which machines are "ticket-in, ticket-out."
- Winter rates are now in affect at the golf course.
- Aces Bar & Grill at the golf course now serves daily low-calorie, low-carb specials. Aces is establishing a reputation in the community as "the place to go" for a super lunch.
- The staff at Chinook Winds, always ready for competition, has 200 members signed up for yet another fitness challenge. Stop by the health club at the golf course any time of day or night and you'll see staff members along with community members working out.
