Evan Davis Headlines Comedy Show

Evan Davis headlines Comedy on the Coast at Chinook Winds on July 24-25, sharing the stage with Del Van Dyke and Roger Lizaola.

Davis gained momentum in San Francisco as he established himself as a headlining comedian in the Bay Area. He became a finalist in San Francisco's hotly contested 10th Annual Comedy Competition and attracted the attention of Hollywood's talent purveyors.

Davis was invited onto Ed McMahon's syndicated show, Star Search, where he made eight appearances, including the finals. He has since made more than 40 television appearances, including Evening at the Improv, Fox network's Comic Strip Live and PBS's Comedy Tonight.

Most recently, Davis was seen as a regular performer on NBC's Tonight Show with Jay Leno. He is a frequent headliner at the Comedy and Magic Club in Hermosa Beach and is the founder of a comedy writing consortium called Headwriters.

Van Dyke emerged from the San Francisco comedy scene in the '80s and quickly became a fixture on the nightclub circuit. The winner of several major comedy competitions, he has headlined across the United States, appeared on network and cable television, performed with musical acts such as The Pointer Sisters and The Neville Brothers, and entertained our Armed Forces serving overseas.

Lizaola left his small town at age 23 to pursue a career in standup comedy. He landed in Seattle from Gilroy, Calif., where he was given his first shot at the world-famous Comedy Underground. His unique comedy style keeps audiences laughing throughout the show.

He has opened for Alonzo Bodden, Chris Brown and the Black Eyed Peas.
