2012 Tribal scholarship award recipients announced

Arthur Bensell Memorial Scholarship

Melissa Bellinger – A junior at California Baptist University majoring in early childhood education who will graduate in the fall of 2014.

Siletz Scholarship

Karly Law – A student at Oregon State University majoring in anthropology who transferred from Oregon Institute of Technology to pursue her love of history so she can protect our history.

Jacob Williams – A student at Lane Community College studying human services so he can be a certified substance abuse professional, preferably in the Eugene Area Office.

Pepsi – Craig Whitehead Scholarship

In 2004, Pepsi dedicated this scholarship in memory of Craig Whitehead. This year, Pepsi donated enough funding to award seven scholarships at $1,000 each. A huge thank you to Pepsi for its interest in the education of Tribal members and preserving Whitehead's memory.

Liberty Inn has Tribal rates

The Liberty Inn in Lincoln City, Ore., has special rates for Siletz Tribal members and Tribal employees.

The room rate is $69 in the winter and $89 in the summer, based upon availability.

This rate includes the inn's full hot buffet breakfast and 24-hour shuttle to and from Chinook Winds Casino Resort.

Meeting space is available for family reunions, birthdays and other family celebrations. Catering also is available upon request.

The Liberty Inn is located at 4990 NE Logan Road, Lincoln City, OR 97367; phone 541-994-5348 or (toll-free) 877-994-1777.

The scholarship essays ask applicants to "Tell us about the most inspirational person in your life."

Justin Brown – A student at Chemeketa Community College working toward a transfer degree to attend the University of Oregon. Lori, his mother, is his most inspirational person because she is strong, intelligent, takes care of those who cannot take care of themselves and can create inspiration from nothing.

Jennifer Coleman – A student at the University of Oregon majoring in communication disorders and sciences. Her husband, Gregory Scott, is the most inspirational person in her life because he is a cancer survivor. Throughout this battle, he retained his sharpness of mind, unparalleled work ethic and a positive outlook. He said he would do anything to support her through school.

Jennifer Cook – A student at Portland Community College working toward a transfer degree in psychology. She then will transfer to Portland State University. She admires people who are committed to change and she is a huge part of her own inspiration because of what she has overcome to get to this point in her life.

Greta Frey – A student at Oregon State University who plans to graduate in 2013 with a degree in health promotion and health behavior. Kenneth M. Hatch, her grandfather, is her most inspirational person because he had great strength of character and was a skilled craftsman and artist who touched the heart of many.

Sage Hatch – A junior at Southern Oregon University majoring in history with a minor in Native American studies who plans to be a teacher. His most inspirational person is his great-great-Aunt Lavera "Babe" Simmons, who is a pillar of strength, confidence, pride and kindness.

Rosa Hernandez-Chavez – A student at Chemeketa Community College working toward a transfer degree in social sciences. Her Aunt Dawn is the most inspirational person in her life because she has been her faithful guide and leader since she was very young.

Kassandra Rilatos – A full-time student at Oregon Coast Community College this fall who initially attended OCCC as a senior at Siletz Valley Early College Academy during all three terms of the 2011-12 academic year. Her most inspirational person is her father, Phillip Rilatos Jr.
