

Consultation with the U.S. DOJ

A consultation was held with U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) representatives Billy Williams and Tim Simmons in late August in Lincoln City. Items discussed included Tribal hunting and fishing rights and natural resources.

Run to the Rogue

Run to the Rogue concluded on the Illinois River at the usual site. John Roe Jr. read Pauline Ricks' testimony from the Restoration hearing.

Having been present at the hearing, I heard it directly from Pauline, but it was most appropriately repeated for Tribal members to hear at this historic site. This is the kind of information that is so important to document and share with the membership.

The runners and staff did a great job organizing the run – thank you all.

Lincoln City 50th Anniversary

The Tribal Council helped celebrate Lincoln City's 50th Anniversary by taking part in a parade through downtown Lincoln City. Our Royalty also participated in the parade.

I believe it was the first parade ever through downtown Lincoln City. Roger and Pat Robertson were the chief organizers of the event.

UO President Michael Schill

Oregon Tribes recently met with the new president of the University of Oregon, Michael Schill, in the campus longhouse.

Schill came to the university from Schenectady N.Y.

It was his first opportunity to work with Tribes. He was very interested in the tribes' history and eager to work us.

Fundraiser for Congressman Schrader

The Tribe hosted a fundraiser for Rep. Kurt Schrader at Chinook Winds' Rogue River room. It was a nice affair. The congressman addressed the group and responded to questions.

Schrader has been extremely helpful on all Tribal issues and we support his reelection to the fifth congressional district.
