

STAHS presents 2015 accomplishments, 2016 goals to the Tribal Council

The all-volunteer Siletz Tribal Arts and Heritage Society's Board of Directors, led by Chairman Dave Hatch, presented its 2015 year-end report to the Siletz Tribal Council on May 31.

The mission of STAHS is to support and promote the practice, conservation and restoration of the Tribal cultures of the Confederated Tribes of Siletz Indians through sharing and education.

Hatch, accompanied by four members of the six-member board, laid out the accomplishments and activities of 2015 and the goals for 2016 in an hour-long presentation that was well-received by the Tribal Council.

In 2015, STAHS worked to restart the Siletz Tribal Cultural Center Phase II design process, adopt a cooperative Memorandum of Agreement for working with the Tribe, raise money for the design costs and contract for the design.

A portion of the design costs was supported by a generous donation directly to the Tribe from the Spirit Mountain Community Fund. Shovel-ready plans for the cultural center will be finished in May 2017.

Hatch attributed 2015's progress to the support and direction of the Tribal Council, the support of Siletz Tribal Charitable Contribution Fund and the excellent planning in 2006 when the schematic designs were prepared.

STAHS' 2016 focus is raising money to build the second phase of the Siletz Tribal Cultural Center on Government Hill. The board will continue to support cultural activities, collect archives and materials appropriate for our collections and reach out to the larger community regarding the culture and history of the Siletz Tribe.
