Government Day at the Capitol

Many activities were planned for Oregon Indian Week in February. Tribes were invited to meet with Gov. Kate Brown to discuss the Clean Energy Jobs Bill and in a separate meeting with her to discuss the status of Indian gaming in Oregon.

We also were invited to join the governor for dinner at the governor's mansion. We appreciated being able to hearing from her and share our concerns.

The Legislative Commission on Indian Services met Feb. 20 and on Feb. 21, Tribes shared program information/displays at the Capitol.

Chemawa birthday

Chemawa Indian School celebrated 129 years as the oldest residential boarding school in the U.S. with a pow-wow held Feb. 23.

ATK, aka Alan,
My friend, we have lost a dear friend to God Almighty. He needed another angel to look over us.

Gladys Bolton, she thought the world of you, Alan, helped you so much and was a good friend to you when you were in prison. I just found out at our elder meeting (Jan. 19, 2019) that they laid her to rest in Siletz.

It has broken my heart. I'm glad I got to know her, she was a special lady who will be missed and always loved.

Love, your friend Sly

To the Lane family – I love you.
