

AFFORDABLE CONNECTIVITY PROGRAM (ACP)

ACP is a benefit program offered by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) that aims to help households connect to broadband internet services in the community. If approved for benefits, ACP would simply pay up to $30 per month per qualified household on your internet bill, and up to $75 per month per qualified household on Tribal land.

It does not matter what internet provider you go through or if you don't currently have a provider - we can help connect you.
