Wash Hunsaker completed his contract for the erection of the electric light poles Wednesday.

If you are entertaining friends send us their names, for fear they may be accidentally unnoticed.

Ask for Salem Woolen Mill goods. They are the best. Take no other. DeVaney & Shelton have them.

S. Peckenpaugh, proprietor of the brick kiln just finished, was over in the county metropolis the first of the week.

Mr. John Morris of Sweet Home valley passed through town Wednesday with a drove of sixty-seven fine beef cattle.

Most of the mountain blackberry party have returned. All express themselves as having a good time and getting all the berries they wanted.

J. W. Compton and family, J. A. Bilyeu and family, and Jas. Manis and his mother will start for the hot springs on the McKenzie next Monday.

Mr. C. P. Bishop of East Portland, an old-time friend, made us a pleasant call Wednesday. Mr. Bishop is traveling for the Thomas Kay Woolen Mills of Salem.

Ed Cusick and John Guiss, of Albany, with piscatorial intent, passed through our city Thursday morning, bound for the fishing grounds on Thomas and Crabtree creeks.

Casper Kropp, contractor for building our new bank, is now engaged in framing the foundation timbers. He states the brick work will be commenced in another week.

Mayer, the baker, has left us for parts unknown. He disappeared a few nights ago about midnight. Several of our business men mourn his absence to the extent of a few dollars.

Rev's Baker of Texas and New of this city, Cumberland Presbyterian ministers are now conducting a series of meetings at the M. E. church. They are having quite good congregations.

The bridge across the Calipooia river at Brownsville, was completed and opened to travel last week. People did not realize the necessity of a bridge until they were without one for a while.

A man over at Tangent named James Sheridan while moving away hay in Henry Settlement's barn last week, fell a distance of eighteen feet. He was so badly injured that his recovery is doubtful.

A match game of baseball has been arranged for Sunday afternoon—after Sunday-school, we suppose—between this city and a neighboring club. May the best club tote off the honors is the prayer of the Press.

We stop our mammoth air-spring presses to contradict the prevailing rumor that it was an Oregon girl who penned the following to a San Francisco music publisher: "Dear sir: have you got a song which sings 'chippy' got your hair cut, Johnny get your gun."

The fighting editor of the Press has rearranged his fighting hours to suit the summer months. The time set for the accommodation of those pugilistically inclined is from 2 to 3 a. m., Sundays excepted. Buryal to be at expense of the victor; no one barred. Only a few more choice lots in his already well-filled graveyard.

Mr. R. Shelton and family and Mr. A. Montgomery will start for a month's visit to Belknap's springs on the McKenzie next Monday or Tuesday. Mr. Montgomery goes for his health, while Mr. Shelton is in pursuit of rest and recreation, after the arduous and multitudinous duties of the past few months. They will undoubtedly have a pleasant trip.

A very interesting event to at least two people transpired at the residence of Geo. L. Southerland on Thursday. Mr. T. J. Pitchford and Miss Winnie E. Wallace, who have so far through life borne its burdens singly and alone, united their destinies and will henceforth trot in double harness. Both contracting parties are well and favorably known in this community, being residents of the Forks of the Santiam. The busy scenes of the harvest field demanding Jeff's immediate attention, the usual honeymoon tour was dispensed with. The Press extends congratulations.

Bilyeu Bros. have some excellent rigs for hire. Try one.

The Scio Base Ball Club organized and elected officers Thursday night. Oh! America, ambulance and a doctor! Peter Bilyeu and others went over to the bay on last Saturday's excursion. They all express themselves as having a good time.

If you have a few leisure moments you might utilize them in observing the improved condition of the typographical part of the Press.

D. F. Crosswell, a resident of Scio and vicinity many years ago was on our streets yesterday, shaking hands and reviving old friendships.

Mine Host Morrow and family of the Scio hotel returned from the mountains Thursday evening loaded down with the luscious blackberry.

The electric light men have amused and interested our unemployed citizens the past week by their aerial dexterity. They are evidently old-timers in their business.

Our informant last week was somewhat mixed in his wild hog item. Instead of the hog killing Mr. Lalond, Mr. Lalond killed the hog. A slight difference as to the fact, and a difference of considerable magnitude to Mr. Lalond, we imagine.

THE school authorities of Independence let the contract last Monday to have built a $15,000 school-house. Also the foundation of a 100-barrel flouring mill was commenced. A mill has been needed in Independence for many years.

Frank Mack, the clever young tonorial artist, has been chosen leader of the Scio Cornet Band, composed of thirteen promising members. It required eight ballots to obtain a verdict. We expect to hear some choice selections in the very near future.

The young ladies of Scio wear a Wahash smile at present, and all on account of the recent arrival of a piano-tuner. We have been listening in vain to hear some of those old time operatic airs, such as "Down Went McGinty" and "Where Did You Get That Hat?"

To-morrow the Press office will rest its labors and repair to church, with the ostensible purpose of petitioning for continued prosperity in the journalistic arena; also to observe and admire the unique costume and expensive headgear of somebody's sweetheart.

Quite a number of our residents have very recently discovered the appalling fact that they possess stomachs—something entirely unthought of, until the green-eyed apple rode the hurricane deck of the cucumber into market.

Dr. Hyde has lately had laid a new sidewalk around his residence, which adds much to the appearance of the property. If several other residents of our city would imitate the doctor's example the average pedestrian would be made happy, and save oceans of profanity.

After considerable labor and a corresponding amount of profanity, interspersed with the frequent discovery of "pi," we are at last comfortably ensconced in our new quarters. The floor is now clean enough to dine upon, but there is no telling what a day may bring forth.

The corner stone of the new M. E. church in Albany was laid with appropriate ceremonies Wednesday evening. Rev. S. P. Wilson, the presiding elder, presided over the ceremonies, assisted by the local pastor, Rev. Menniger; Rev. Gould of Shedd; Rev. Calder of Lebanon, and Rev. Satchell of Corvallis.

The Oregon Pacific's river steamer Three Sisters, which has been held a prisoner since the floods of the past winter at Oregon City, has been finally released. The basin being sufficiently repaired to allow the escape of the boat. The "Sisters" will resume its duties on the Willamette immediately.

The change of time table which went into effect yesterday on the Oregon Pacific will accommodate a large class of travel. The train between Albany and Green Basin will leave the eastern point in the morning, arriving at Albany at 11:20 a. m., returning leave Albany at 1:10 p. m. This will give connections with the Yaquina, the Southern Pacific, and the Narrow-Gauge trains, and people from valley points can reach the heart of the Cascade mountains on the day they leave home. This must largely increase travel.

As a representative of the Press strolled out the other evening his attention was attracted to a trio of small boys who were puffing away on the poisonous cigarette. They manipulated the subtle "stick" with grace and activity becoming a Fifth Avenue swell. As we approached they hastily secreted the neatly covered weed and we were led to infer they were imposing upon some kind mother's confidence, who was unaware of their indulgence in such pernicious habits. Smoking will not hasten your approach to manhood, but, on the contrary, will assist materially your occupancy of an unexpected grave. We owe something to the posteriors of our posterity, and if we would lay hands upon them, and lay them in the proper place and with sufficient severity, much good might result therefrom.

Mrs. Thomas Baldwin of Prineville, Or., is in this city visiting her father's family.

John Barrows, a former resident of Albany, and a member of the firm of Blain, Young & Co., that was dissolved early in the 70's, died several days ago in Oakland, Cal. The remains, the dispatch stated, would be brought to Albany for interment. Mr. Barrows had a great many warm personal friends in this county.

The Oregon Land Company of Salem, Oregon, has inaugurated a system of cutting up large tracts of land and selling them out in ten-acre tracts for fruit raising and gardening. The plan includes certain improvements in the way of well graded streets, shade trees, and cottages that insures at once an attractive and beautiful surrounding, while especial provision is made for market for the fruit. The Oregon Land Company has offices in Portland, Salem and Albany.

Now We Will Have Light. Messrs. Gleason and Webb, employees of the United Edison Manufacturing company, whose head office for the northwest Pacific coast is in Portland, arrived in this city last Tuesday and are busily engaged putting in an excellent electric light system. We are to have both arc and incandescent lights, being second to no city on the coast in that respect, and probably the only one that has no greater population that has any kind of an electric light system. As an enterprising community, Scio is the boss, and don't you forget it.

Harvest Notes. Threshing will be under head way a week hence.

We hear of some grain that is lodged or broken down.

About all of the fall sown wheat is in the shock in the Albany parairie.

Harvesting is progressing in a very satisfactory manner in this locality.

The hay crop is largely all housed, the yield being large and of excellent quality.

Mr. Green McDonald has one field of wheat that shatters so badly that he runs his binder at night only.

Murder Will Out. Several years ago a family by the name of Logan were residents of this city, but moving away they have almost been forgotten by most of our residents.

Frank Logan, a member of the family finally brought up at Empire City, Coos county, where he met his death by a gunshot wound. It was thought at that time and until within the past few days that the homicide was a case of suicide.

Wednesday Dr. King of this city received a letter from his granddaughter, a resident of Empire, stating that a man (not giving his name) had died there, saying just previous to his death; that Frank Logan did not commit suicide, but that he (the dying man) shot him.

The letter did not state that the murderer said anything in explanation of his crime, but was one of inquiry concerning whether young Logan had ever been a resident of this locality.

Railroad Sure. The engineer corps of the Oregonian railroad has been running several preliminary lines in and about our city the past week, one of which was over the old abandoned line or switch which runs to the warehouse, within half a mile of town.

Yesterday they surveyed a line from the warehouse, through Mill street, to Scio Roller Mills. That we will have a road there is but little doubt. Even the spur switch would be better than none. Then a great portion of wheat which has been stored at Munkers and other points would be shipped at any time in the winter without being subjected to the damage of the winter rains.

But the spur switch would soon be extending up the valley, to the mills, and to the coal fields and paint mines, both of which are now being developed. Then the line could be operated as an independent system from the main line, as the Lebanon branch is now being run. There is no question but what such a line would pay above operating expenses from the start.
