Valley Church News

Valley Evangelical Free
November's theme, "Christian Obedience," began with John 10:14-30, containing Jesus' teaching on the Good Shepherd. When Jesus says that His sheep know Him, and He knows them, He means that He and believers have an intimate, personal relationship.

Jesus also taught that He had "other sheep" -- also those non-Jewish believers throughout the centuries. Finally, Jesus teaches that He will give His life for His sheep.

"I lay down My life for the sheep" (v. 15). Verses. 27-28 are dramatic, "My sheep listen to My voice. I know them and they follow me, I give them eternal life, and they shall never perish; no one can snatch them out of My hand."

Seventh-day Adventist

Pastor Harold Premdas based his sermon on II Peter 3:1-18, where Peter was expressing concern about the effect scoffers were having on the faith of believers in the Second Coming of Christ.

They were asking, "Where is the coming that he promised? Everything in the natural world continues as it has always been since creation." Peter countered that everything has not continued as it was. Remember that the Earth at God's command was destroyed in Noah's time by a great flood.

The Earth originally was brought into existence by the word of God, and it is now reserved for destruction and purification by fire by the same word of God.

St. Patrick of the Forest Catholic Church

God does not judge us on our image. We are judged by how we use what we have been given.

Success means nothing to the Lord, or how many talents we have, it's how we handle them. These are words to ponder when we read Matthew 23 where Jesus blasts the Pharisees for the lack of sincerity.

The scribes and Pharisees were good at preaching, but not good at practicing what they preached. Their religion was hollow; their religious practice was done for the sake of producing proper image.

When our concern in life is to acquire the proper image and separate ourselves from those we perceive as ordinary or below us, then we are acting as the Pharisees did. How much time do we spend worrying what people say and think of us?

Good Shepherd Lutheran

Sunday was All Saints Day to remember those who were, or are deserving of the term, "saint." In the Bible we are told of the religious leaders who set many unnecessary religious rules; placed burdens on common people in the form of customs and rituals; and acted religious merely to impress others.

Jesus' teachings are simple and easy for us to understand. He says, "Come to me, all you that are weary and are carrying heavy burdens, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn from me, for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden light."

Immanuel United Methodist

Pastor David Goodrich took his lesson from Joshua. Water is mentioned many times in the Bible; parting of the Red Sea, crossing the Jordan, the Great Flood. While the Israelites wandered the desert for 40 years for disobeying God, He still provided them food and drink, and He did not abandon them.

Joshua 1:9 "Do not be afraid or discouraged, for I, the Lord your God am with you wherever you go."

Soup and pie was served to the congregation after services by the Methodist Women.

Community Bible

Last Sunday Elder Ralph Casper presented the sermon (in the absence of Dr. Don Blackburn who was with La Casa team in Mexico).

His text was Psalms 51:1-10. David acknowledged his failure to resist the temptation of the fair Bathsheba. He prayed, "Create in me a clean heart and renew a right spirit within me." Zach. 3 tells us that Satan never give up his quest for our souls.

Sunday the pastor spoke, along with some of La Casa team, about the joys and thanksgiving experienced in Mexico. We should be thankful for God's blessings, even for our testing and trials which will make us more faithful to the Lord, he said.

Thanksgiving is a family holiday...

No one understands the importance of family more than we do. We are a family, serving families... and that goes a long way toward appreciating what a holiday like Thanksgiving means. As your family gathers this holiday season, remember to give thanks for these precious moments together.
