CJ City Council members take pledge to serve I.V.

During the Jan. 13, meeting of the Cave Junction City Council, in the council chambers of City Hall, Council members Dan Fiske, Tony Paulson, Rita Dyer, and Mayor Ed Faircloth took the oath of office. All were incumbents with the exception of Paulson.

Faircloth read the State of the City Address, in which he encouraged all residents to become involved in their city government.

"There are currently openings on the Planning Commission and this spring, there will be positions available on the Budget Committee," Faircloth said. "Citizens interested in participating are encouraged to come in and discuss positions with us."

The mayor said that contracting actions are being developed for improvements to the sidewalks in the main commercial area, as part of the first phase of the Downtown Revitalization Action Plan.

Also of good news for the city of Cave Junction, was the announcement of an $84,000 grant, "from the Oregon Economic and Community Development Department to implement accessibility improvements at City Hall and in Jubilee Park," Faircloth said.

"The left turn refuge at Laurel Road and retrofitting of the bridges over the Illinois River south of the city are in the State Transportation Improvement Plan," he said, addressing transportation concerns. "The construction of these improvements should start in 2006 or 2007."

During the Sheriff's Report, Lt. Lee Harman of the Josephine County Sheriff's Office told the council that there has been an increase in forged checks and checks being written on closed accounts. Also, in the month of December, crimes against property went up, as crimes against persons went down.

That's good news for the Illinois Valley. As deputy's shifts are reassigned, more deputies are available to patrol the area, allowing more patrol coverage for the City of Cave Junction.

In a letter to the mayor and council members, Gary Biggs, Utilities Supervisor, addressed unresolved issues from the Dec. 9 meeting.

The transition of West River St. to Daisy Hill Road is being considered for repair of an abrupt edge. Daisy Hill needs new rock and compaction, in order for the road to be viable.

The council will be making a decision as to weather the City of Cave Junction will contribute to the maintenance of Daisy Hill Road.

When the city starts it's downtown sidewalk project, anticipated to begin this spring, the sidewalk between 204 and 210 W. Lister will be repaired.

Finally, Biggs will request that H.D. Patton Construction extend the asphalt on Raymond to the existing grade of the street. This would eliminate the abrupt edge, which resulted when the construction company installed a new driveway near the intersection of Raymond and South Junction St.

Just 'kidding,' one of two free events offered by OSU

Oregon State University (OSU) Extension Service is co-sponsoring a free event on goat kidding, Saturday, Jan. 25, 1-4 p.m. at the OSU Extension Service Auditorium, 215 Ringuette Street, Grants Pass.

Learn how to assist a doe with kidding. The class will teach how to assist a doe with both a normal and a difficult birth and how to care for kids. Emphasis will be on Pygmy goats but is applicable to all goat breeds.

Registration is requested. Phone (541) 476-6613 to register.

A workshop, "Strategic Thinking For Small Enterprises," is scheduled Thursday, Jan. 23, 10 a.m.-noon, at the OSU Extension Service Auditorium, 215 Ringuette St. Grants Pass.

The workshop will answer the questions like, Is "strategic thinking" only for Fortune 500 companies? How can owners of small acreage or small enterprises develop a business strategy for their company? What are the strategies used by other small businesses?

This workshop is free and registration is appreciated. Phone (541) 476-6613.
