A Look Back This Week

On February 10, 1763, a peace pact was signed, ending the French and Indian War; the French lost Canada and the Midwest ... February 15, 1898, the U.S. battleship Maine was blown up in Havana, killing 260 people ... February 14, 1929, gangsters in Chicago gunned down seven rivals in the "St. Valentine's Day Massacre" ... February 11, 1945, the Yalta Conference ended with President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Soviet leader Josef Stalin agreeing that their three countries, plus France, would occupy Germany and that the Soviet Union would enter the war against Japan ... February 12, 1955, the U.S. agreed to help train the South Vietnamese army ... February 14, 1962, President Kennedy said that U.S. military advisers in Vietnam would fire if fired upon ... February 12, 2001, a NASA spacecraft landed on the asteroid Eros, 196 million miles from Earth ... February 13, 2001, two Israeli helicopter gunships fired four missiles at the car of a Palestinian official ... February 15, 2001, a Palestinian bus driver drove into a crowd of soldiers and commuters at a bus stop in Azur, killing seven soldiers and a civilian and injuring 20 others ... February 15, 2001, Mary Jo White, the U.S. attorney in New York, said that her office and the FBI had begun investigating President Clinton's pardon of fugitive-from-justice Marc Rich ... February 16, 2001, former President Bill Clinton resolved the controversy over the cost of his office space by choosing instead to rent space in Harlem, a predominantly black neighborhood ... February 16, 2001, more than three dozen U.S. and British aircraft struck at Iraqi radar installations and anti-aircraft sites near Baghdad; the objective was to protect allied planes patrolling the southern no-fly zone ... February 16, 2001, on a visit to Mexico, President Bush said that the air strikes were routine ... February 12, 2002, the war crimes trial of Slobodan Milosevic, former president of Yugoslavia, began at The Hague, the Netherlands ... February 14, 2002, campaign finance reform edged closer to approval when the House endorsed the Shays-Meehan bill.

A black and white illustration of a large, octagonal trash can. The can has a lid with a triangular handle in the center. The body of the can has vertical ridges and a handle on the right side. The illustration is done in a simple, bold style with some shading to give it a three-dimensional appearance.[illegible]
