Biscuit Fire assessment is available

.The Biscuit Post-Fire Assessment, conducted by the Rogue River and Siskiyou National Forests, is available for review.

The assessment evaluates the fire that burned nearly 500,000 acres in Southern Oregon and Northern California during the summer and autumn of 2002.

The purpose of the assessment is to evaluate changed conditions and recommend potential management actions following the fire.

Only the portions of the Biscuit Fire located on the Siskiyou National Forest are evaluated in this assessment. Terrestrial, aquatic, and social conditions and issues in and around the fire area are addressed. Public safety, ecosystem sustainability, economic opportunities, recreation opportunities and cultural resource protection are emphasized.

Meetings were held in Grants Pass, Cave Junction, Brookings and Gold Beach in December to engage public opinion, and again in January to discuss the developed recommendations.

The document is available on the Internet at, www.biscuitfire.com. There are also a few copies available to check out, read and return at all ranger districts and offices of the Siskiyou and Rogue River National Forest. There are also a limited number of copies available for distribution. Phone 471-6722 for more information.

Children not vaccinated sent home

Public health officials at the Oregon Dept. of Human Services (DHS) predict that a greater number of children than usual may be sent home on Wednesday Feb. 19, because they don't have all of their immunizations required by law.

"Last year, we had to temporarily suspend requirements for adult tetanus-diphtheria (Td) and chickenpox vaccinations because of national shortages," said Grant Higginson, M.D., state public health officer.

"Now we expect to issue more exclusion orders than usual, because children who missed getting those immunizations need to get caught up," he said.

School exclusions have increased in the past few years because of additional requirements for middle school children to receive Hepatitis B, second measles and chickenpox shots.

Higginson said that last year's temporary suspension of Td and chickenpox vaccinations will likely make this year's exclusion total even higher.

In 2002, 37,283 exclusion orders were issued to children who were found to be missing immunizations. Of those, 8,263 children were unable to go to school or daycare on exclusion day because they had not yet received the required immunizations, according to Higginson.

School exclusion day occurs annually in mid-February. Children whose school or day care records have not been updated showing the missing shots or who do not have an appropriate medical or religious exemption will be sent home. For more information phone (800) SAFENET, or (800)723-3638.
