

Explorer train to run through early Sept.

Passengers have more time to enjoy the popular Lewis and Clark Explorer Train between Portland and historic Astoria.

Because demand for tickets has been so great, the partners sponsoring the train extended the season through Sept. 15. The train operates on Fridays, Saturdays, Sundays and Mondays.

The train, a highlight of Oregon's Lewis and Clark bicentennial commemoration, runs along a 97-mile route between Portland and Astoria along the Oregon side of the lower Columbia River.

The four-hour journey features spectacular scenery and is the only way to get close to several historic sites visited by the Corps of Discovery expedition.

Trains depart from the Linnton boarding area at 12222 N.W. Marina Way, off St. Helens Road, two miles north of the St. Johns Bridge off U.S. 30. Parking is free.

A connecting bus from Portland Union Station also is available to take passengers to Linnton for boarding. The bus leaves Union Station at 7:30 a.m.

The train leaves Linnton at 7:50 a.m., arriving in Astoria at 11:40 a.m.

It returns each day from Astoria at 4:50 p.m., arriving back at Linnton at 8:40 p.m. The shuttle bus arrives at Portland Union Station around 9:05 p.m.
