'Women in Trades' fair set March 13

The fifth annual Southern Oregon Women in Trades Fair is set for Saturday, March 13 from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at Crater High School in Central Point.

Women in Trades Fair 2004 will provide women and girls of all ages an opportunity to explore trade and technical careers, find out about training and employment opportunities, and participate in hand-on workshops involving carpentry, electrical, plumbing, welding, sheet metal and more.

Those attending will have a chance to meet training providers and employers who are interested in actively recruiting women for jobs. There will also be information booths representing various companies and trade groups.

Co-sponsoring the event are Rogue Community College, Oregon Dept. of Education, and Southern Oregon Education Service District.

Admission is free. For more information, contact Jeanne Schraub at (541) 245-7994 or email at jschraub@roguecc.edu.

The Savvy Senior

By CAROL MARTIN

In the State of the Union address, President Bush once again mentioned privatizing some Social Security funds on a voluntary basis. In other words, taxpayers could opt to pay some of their Social Security taxes into a private fund where the money can grow for the individual. This is as opposed to receiving the standard Social Security payout upon retirement. Of course, that amount would be reduced. However, it would be offset by the money put into the private account.

I have long been of the opinion that Social Security is a broken system. When it was first put into place, life expectancy was not what it is today. The average age for people dying was about 68. That meant that people would only collect for a short time, leaving money for other recipients. That's not the case today (fortunately!).

It is also a travesty that many people mistakenly thought Social Security was all they needed for retirement. They didn't think ahead. These are the people who struggle in poverty. Some of them are reduced to being homeless. That's because they were under the false impression Social Security would provide for them.

As it is now, Social Security has vastly changed. Not only are retirees collecting, but the disabled and others are allowed to receive Social Security benefits. That, too, greatly strains the system.

In a perfect world, I'd like to see Social Security phased out. That is not to say that people who need help should be shut out. I believe we could institute other government programs which would take the place of Social Security - again, only for those who are truly needy.

Starting with putting some money into a private account is a good first step. I realize what I'm proposing is wildly unpopular. However, it is realistic.
