

Get ready for wildfire, it's coming

"It's coming."
 "We have no idea when it will start or end, but we know it's coming and are you ready?" said Sgt. Curtis Pilcher, Grants Pass fire marshal.

This is a reminder that homes, outbuildings need to be clear of flammable vegetation before fire comes raging towards your home.

Here are tips to help your home survive a passing wildfire.

- *Keep needles and leaves from your home's roof and rain gutters.
- *Rake and remove flammable debris such as dead grass, blackberries, and pine or fir needles from around your home.
- *Keep flammable materials away from any propane, oil, or fuel tanks.
- *Put together a grab-and-go bag. Gather essential items such as: address book, birth certificates, insurance policies, prescription medication, clothing and toiletries.
- *Establish a plan to remove pets and livestock.
- *Trim tree branches approximately 8 feet from the ground.
- *Maintain a clear fire-break around your home of at least 50 feet. If your home is on a slope, increase the firebreak to 100 feet.
- *Provide a visible address that can be seen from the street, at intersections of forked roads and on your home.
- *Maintain a clear driveway with a vertical clearance above 12 feet.

RCC offering management class at SBDC

A management class is being offered at Rogue Community College's Small Business Development Center (SBDC).

The class, "Managing People: Employee Performance Plans," will demonstrate how to link employee pay to company success; how to set measurable performance objectives linked to business profitability; and how to build an incentive performance plan.

The class will be offered on Tuesday, June 8 and Thursday, June 10.

It will be held at RCC's SBDC, 214 S.W. Fourth St., Grants Pass. There is a tuition and registration fee.

Pre-registration is required. Phone (541) 956-7494, (541) 245-7500, Ext. 7494; or (800) 411-6508, Ext. 7494.

Selma center solar power project set

Installation of a six-to-eight-kilowatt flush-mounted solar photovoltaic system is planned at Selma Community & Education Center, the former Selma Elementary School.

In making the announcement, Pacific Power also said that the system will be located near a planned farmers' market.

(Editor's Note: Watch "Illinois Valley News" for news of further developments.)
