Reservations needed for customer service event

A customer service program is being launched by the Southern Oregon Visitors Association (SOVA) from a grant awarded by the U.S. Forest Service.

The program will involve holding customer service workshops in rural communities including two in Illinois Valley.

Quality training will be offered at the Illinois Valley Visitor Center on Tuesday, June 29 from 2 to 4 p.m. and at Oregon Caves Chateau on Wednesday, June 30 from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and from 5 to 7:30 p.m.

To register for training, contact I.V. Community Response Team office at 592-4440 or phone the chateau at 592-3400 by Thursday, June 24. There is a fee.

"We're anxious to work with all tourism groups and chambers in the region in making sure this program reaches every rural community," said Sue Price, owner of Southern Oregon Marketing Consultants, which was awarded a contract by SOVA to manage the program.

"The first phase will be developing a pocket size quick reference bookmarker for front-line staff to present to tourists wanting more information on things to do in the area," said Price.

Tee time for chamber golf

Aug. 21 is set for the second annual Illinois Valley Chamber of Commerce golf tournament at I.V. Golf Course, said chamber Director Vicki Gill, event chairman.

Gill, SOFCU office manager in Cave Junction, said that people can sign up for the fun tourney by phoning 592-3326. As during the chamber's first such event last year, food and prizes – besides golf – will be among attractions.
